Highway Owners, Industries Enter Requests At Niles Zone Hearing

Property-owners along the highway at Niles girded to battle for the right to do what they please with their land last week, as the County Planning Commission opened hearings on zoning the town.

Industry representatives also served notice they want no straightjacket on their expansion.

The commission took note of the issues. One commissioner hinted he thinks commercial plans for Highway 9 too ambitious, and the hearing was recessed to take up again on January 24.

Several areas of disagreement seemed to be shaping up over the technical staff's proposals for Niles, first Township town to seek zoning six years ago, and now the last to have it considered.

Briefly, these recommendations include zoning for:

LIGHT INDUSTRY: at the Kraftile and American Chemical Paint plants; between the railroad tracks and Fremont Avenue as far west as Shinn Road.

HOMES: two-family residences in the downtown sector; 5000-foot lots in Canyon Heights and around the new school; 8000-foot lots in Adobe Acres, 10,000-footers north of the Kraftile plant, acre lots along north edge of the highway north of that.

AGRICULTURE: outside the residential area, including the gravel pits south of Adobe Acres which were earmarked for homes when the tract was zoned.

COMMERCE: in its present location fronting on First Street, with the addition of the entire two blocks between G and I Streets, and the blocks on Second Street between G and I halfway to Third Street. Also the corner of Fremont Avenue at Highway 9.

First objections came from Commissioners George Dugan and Fred Mellmann. They pointed out the tentative map wasn't their idea at all, merely that of the technicians. Dugan demanded to know why the gravel pits south of Adobe Acres hadn't been zoned agricultural in the first place.

Planning Director John Jay Thomas replied this was because there was no agricultural classification at the time, and added he believes the pits can never be used for homes anyway.

Mellman said he thought the business district as proposed was queerly shaped. But Thomas pointed out Niles is hemmed in and has unique problems of development. Probably this is why it has taken six years to arrive at zoning, he suggested.

Postmaster Ed Enos, speaking as a highway-frontage owner, and also for "most of the owners" of other frontage property, asked that a strip 300 feet deep be zoned for business all along the highway where it passes through the Niles School District.

Enos declared "the trend already has been established" for strip development, not only by existing business at Niles, but also at San Leandro and Hayward.

Mellmann snorted that this "means four miles of commercial frontage." He said it was "a very large request, and probably not in the best interests of the area."

Dugan inquired if the Niles Chamber of Commerce has ever taken a stand regarding the highway use. Thomas assured him that "it had not, clearly, because when it tried, it was accused of fostering a monopoly for downtown business."

Thomas then cited reports from the State Division of Highways, urging that no "strip development" be allowed at Niles, since it is not only dangerous from a traffic standpoint, but "eventually will mean costly re-location of the highway."

"Niles' original business district developed along the highway, now First Street," Thomas

FIRST TOWNSHIP 'GOVERNMENT'?

Glenmoor's 'City-Service' Ballot Set January 25

Homeowners southwest of Centerville will vote January 25 on whether to form an independent taxing district which would give them many city services without actual city government.

This is the proposed Glenmoor Community Service District, advocated-according to a principal backer-as a means of "beating Newark to the draw" on city plans, and of staying out of a Township Recreation District.

Boundaries of the Glenmoor district, as outlined to the Board of Supervisors in Oakland on Tuesday, are: Highway 17, Central Avenue, Cedar Road, and Mowry Road.

Supervisor Chester Stanley demurred briefly, saying that the election ought to be consolidated with the recreation district ballot, due to be set today. However Dep. Dist. Atty. Douglas Dunning said that legal technicalities forced an immediate decision, if the Glenmoor issue was to get on the ballot in time for the February 1 tax deadline. So the date was set.

If successful, the election would give the Township its first local "government", although it would have the County in control of planning and some other services.

At a meeting Monday night in Washington High School, some 50 residents of the area heard final explanations of the proposal from officials of the parent Glenmoor Homeowners Association.

Noel Diamond, Glenmoor Homeowner president, denied district formation would work against Township-wide incorporation, and predicted a successful service district might even show the way to inter-town cooperation and cityhood.

L. S. Williams, rancher who lives on the district's east boundary, protested his inclusion.

James R. Meyer, association secretary, said its boundaries were purposely moved across Blacow Road to Cedar as a means of "beating Newark to the draw." Newark's proposed "city" extends to Blacow.

Centerville Yule Show Saturday

Centerville's merchants will play host to the community on Saturday when they stage a giant Christmas party in their new downtown parking lot.

The program starts shortly after 2 p. m. with the arrival of Santa, loaded with a quarter-ton of free candy for the youngsters.

A star-studded stage show headed by Captain Fortune of television fame is expected to lure throngs to the lot at Main and Fremont, according to Gordon Morris, president of the Merchants Association. The Washington Hi Band, direction of William E. Cook, will provide music, and there will be choral numbers from a glee club directed by Dwight Thornburg.

Drawing for handsome prizes of home appliances will conclude the show. It will be preceded by a free matinee at the Center Theatre according to Russ Osborne, manager. This will feature a selected film and cartoons, and will start at 11:30 a. m. Osborne will provide a gift for each child guest.

Ex-Postmaster Dies In Home

Manuel C. Joseph, 72, former postmaster of Irvington, died at his home Tuesday after a lingering illness.

He was the husband of Mrs. Frances Joseph, brother of John Joseph and Mrs. Delphine Dunbar of Irvington; the uncle of Orion Dunbar, Centerville; Eleanor Costa, Irvington; Robert Dunbar and Clotilda Schneller, both of San Jose; Thelma Deben, Salinas, and Dorothy Silva of San Leandro; the brother-in-law of Minnie Coelho.

Funeral services will be held Friday, at 9 a.m. in the Chapel of the Palms, Centerville. Requiem mass will be at 9:30 a.m. in St. Joseph's Church, Mission San Jose. Interment will be Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Recitation of the Rosary is Thursday (tonight) at 8 p.m.

Joseph was postmaster at Irvington for 30 years before his retirement in 1953.

DRASTIC COUNTER-MEASURE

Irvington Plots To Woo Part of Newark Fire Dist.

A counter-thrust into Newark's fire district was aimed Tuesday by the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

Jack Stevenson, landowner in an area which is in the Irvington School District, but which is proposed as part of the "City of Newark", made the suggestion.

Reasoned Stevenson: Newark bases its "claim" on land between PG&E Road and Mowry Road, west of Blacow Road, on the fact that it lies in the Newark Fire District. Thus if it were taken into the Irvington Fire District, Newark's "threat" to Irvington would vanish.

Therefore Stevenson urged, the half-dozen large landowners in the disputed tract should write the Supervisors asking to be annexed to the Irvington Fire District. At the same time, the Irvington Fire Commissioners should assure the county they want the disputed area. Legally, it then would be up to the Supervisors, he declared.

Dr. E. M. Grimmer, fire commissioner, agreed to call a special meeting of his group and explore the possibility. On his part, Stevenson said he will poll the other property-owners. Of the 600 or 700 acres involved, he said he owns 326 acres, and wants it in Irvington.

Stevenson explained "it's 4.2 miles from the corner of Blacow and PG&E Roads to the Newark firehouse, and only two miles to the Irvington firehouse."

Study of cityhood for Irvington, advanced as an original buffer against Newark ambitions, meantime proceeded with a report from Attorney Morris Hyman on steps necessary before a city can be formed.

Peerless Asks 15% Boost

Last week Peerless Stages asked the state Public Utilities commission for permission to increase fares 15 per cent on routes between Oakland and Santa Cruz.

The company also asked a general 15 per cent increase on family and school fares.

H. D. Gaeta, president of the bus firm, said his company had been losing money for the past two years and said the increases were being asked to correct the deficits.

Norris, DeForest, Dubuque On '55 United Fund Board

Superior Judge Allen G. Norris of Centerville last week was elected a vice-president of the East Bay United Fund at a "dutch treat" dinner staged by the 1954 United Crusade workers in Oakland.

Judge Norris is joined on the Fund's governing board by Donald. S. DeForest of Niles, Crusade chairman for the Township this year; and by Gordon Dubuque, head of the drive's commerce-and-industry committee. DeForest and Dubuque will serve three-year terms as directors.

Peter Howard, Oakland civic leader and terminal excutive, was elected president of the fund for 1955, succeeding Norris Nash.

Nash paid tribute to the volunteer work of 14,000 residential an business solicitors, and also singled out Merritt Sanford of Centerville for outstanding effort in the drive just concluded.

The Crusade this year raised a record $2,760,000 to help support 103 welfare, health and youth-building agencies in the East Bay.

Supervisors Act

Zone Warm Springs

No New Flood Poll Possible Until June

Another election for flood-control and drainage bonds cannot be held in Central Washington Township before next June.

This word came today from Herbert C. Crowle, engineer for the County Flood Control & Water Conservation District, on the heels of last week's 86-vote defeat of Zone 5 bonds.

Crowle said the law provides that six months must clapse before another ballot may be held. This would mean June 7.

County Supervisors must set an election date, if one is to be held. Local backers indicated today they aren't licked, despite loss of the $3,987,000 bond test.

Crowle said the Supervisors can set up a tentative budget in the spring to levy taxes for flood control in 1956 if they wish, then cancel the outlay if (1) another election is called, and (2) if the bonds pass.

The engineer also called attention to State plans for the Eastshore Freeway, now in the blueprint stage. He said these have to be tied into a permanent flood-control program here, or else the Freeway link may have to be redesigned later, with local taxpayers footing the bill.

Property-Owners' About-Face Fails To Halt Zoning

Protective zoning for Warm Springs was granted Tuesday by County Supervisors despite a last-minute about-face by a group of landowners.

Chamber of Commerce representatives plugged hard for previous recommendations by (1) the Chamber and (2) the Planning Commission that the outskirts of the community be held in an agricultural "deep-freeze" classification until the pattern of development for the 400-population town emerges more clearly.

Last Thursday night, however, a dozen chamber members, most of whom own land west of the highway, voted to recommend to the Supervisors that everything between the Freeway and the railroads and the Bay side of the Warm Springs School District be zoned to permit tract homes.

This produced a delayed but violent reaction. Anti-change forces led by Bruce Michael warned on Tuesday at the hearing in Oakland that this would open up Warm Springs for cheap housing before it is ready and bar industry from the area.

Finally on the motion of Supervisor Kent Pursel, the Board voted to let the original recommendations stand. Zoning thus takes effect in 30 days.

Vice-president Charles Venturi, who presided at the Thursday night session in Warm Springs, told the Supervisors he did not believe the meeting "was a fair representation of the community" because not enough notice had been given that such a sweeping change would be discussed.

The previous Tuesday, the Supervisors sent the matter back to the chamber, asking for a recommendation, when a subdivider's attorney, David Gilmore, asked for reconsideration. Only Pursel demurred at the time.

In Oakland, John Perry and Manuel Vargas spoke against changing the original, agricultural, recommendation. Said Perry:

"What are our planning commissioners and engineers for if we don't take their advice. If we don't leave land for industry, who's going to pay our taxes?" And Vargas added: "If we don't reserve property for industry, we'll have to move out because we can't pay our taxes. People are trying to rezone it only for their own purposes."

Will Citizen Utilities Buy Water Dist.?

Will the Citizens' Utilities Company, a private concern take over water distribution for all of Washington Township?

This question was directed to the utility Tuesday by vote of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. T. C. Wilson set off the discussion by asserting that the publicly-run Alameda County Water District ought to revert to its "original purpose", and confine its activities to conservation and flood control, allowing the private firm to sell water.

Dr. Wilson said he believes the district could then take over flood control such as was contemplated in Zone 5 of the county's Flood Control & Water Conservation District, bonds for which were defeated in the December 7 election.

The Niles dentist recalled that the Water District was set up four decades ago to conserve underground supplies, and that only in recent years has it assumed the duty of selling water.

Citizens Utilities serves Niles and Decoto, while the public district serves the balance of the Township.

Supes 'Fix It' For City Lots In Rural Tracts

A wide loophole through which to squeeze narrow lots in South Alameda County's unspoiled rural areas was opened last week by the Board of Supervisors.

Over protests by one supervisor, by their planning director, and by the Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce, four supervisors voted to "protect" subdividers by:

1. Relieving them from obeying minimum-lot size requirements if they have filed a hasty subdivision map before zoning takes effect, and

2. Making it impossible to require minimum-lot sizes on any land which has ever been earmarked by its owners for smaller lots.

John Jay Thomas, county planning engineer, argued that the amendments establish a means by which developers can squeeze houses closer together, as in crowded cities, instead of being forced to put them on larger lots, as requested in Mission San Jose and Centerville.

Thomas pointed out that since zoning takes a year or two to accomplish, a subdivider who wants to, can merely file a hasty map to "freeze" property until he wants it for city-size, 5000-square-foot lots.

And Supervisor Kent Pursel of Berkeley objected strongly to the amendments to the county zoning ordinance. Said he:

"It simply defeats planning in any area."

But Supervisor Harry Bartell, a real estate operator, pressed for passage on the grounds that restrictions would drive subdivision capital out of the county.

He declared that the county "hasn't gone for enough" to take care of the needs of this capital.

After the supervisors had registered their vote, Pursel noted an item on the agenda—a protest from Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce on any reduction on lot sizes of 8,000 square feet. These were established for most of the community when it was zoned last summer.

The letter asserted:

"These minimum lot sizes were set up as a result of many meetings of citizens of this community over a long period of time. Any individual downward adjustments will adversely effect the entire overall plan, and will tend to set a precedent for other individuals to request lowering of these standards."

Pursel said the letter "should have been considered before we voted." But Bartell took another informal poll of the Board, and no vote was switched.

Newark's Scout Program Growing Fast, With Broad Participation By Adult Leaders

By GENE CARROLL

Newark is fast assuming an important role in all phases of Scouting within Washington Township, according to Frank Ferry, Neighborhood Scout Commissioner.

Reorganization of the three Scouting groups, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts, in Newark has progressed steadily into its final phase under the guidance of Clark Redeker, who is in charge of Scout organization and expansion. Redeker has received assistance from Delmer Jones. Acting in his dual role of Cub Scout Committee chairman and Boy Scout Troop Committee chairman, Jones has helped secure adult participation in the Scout programs.

Energetic pursuit of their responsibilities has paid a fruitful dividend for these workers as they have enlisted men and women of the highest caliber into the Scout organizations. The most vital need in any Scout program is willing and capable adult leadership. This ingredient is now being furnished in Newark by men and women, who, because of their primary interest in boys, were eager to volunteer their assistance to maintain an active Scout program.

Realignment of the Cub Scout Pack No. 1 brings seven active Dens into the Pack and establishes an eighth Den for immediate use in expanding the group. There are 70 boys, ages 8 to 12, receiving their basic Scout training in the Cub Pack.

At the head of this group is Garry Armstrong, Cubmaster; and Paul Brewer, assistant Cubmaster. Delmer Jones is committee chairman and Ruth Spence is Den Mother chairman. Leo Bohannon serves as Institutional Representative from the Century Lodge No. 150 of the Knights of Pythias, the Cub Scout sponsoring organization.

The Den Mothers and Assistant Den Mothers include: Den 1, Aubrey Martin; Den 2, Jean Di Maggio and Evelyn Jensen; Den 3, Clara Gibson and Anne Williams; Den 4, Maurine Thiessen and Margaret Mello; Den 5, Naomi O'Neill and Grace Blazian; Den 6, Mary Hoover and Frances Jones; Den 7, Ada Skaredoff, Jeanne Carroll and Frances Veach; Den 8, Florence Lacey and Pat Binder.

The time and effort these ladies devote to keep the Cub Scout program active cannot be pinpointed as a set amount, however, a Den Mother must have a Den meeting for her Cub Scouts every week and teach them crafts, Scout lore, and help them learn while they earn their badges and awards; she must attend a monthly Den Mothers meeting; a monthly meeting with the Cub Scout committee and finally the monthly Pack meeting. That adds up to a minimum of seven days a month that a Den Mother must devote some time to the Cub Scout program.

Reorganization of the Boy Scouts brought much needed assistance to Edwin Maughan, Scoutmaster, while giving the whole program a "shot in the arm". The announced signing of Frank C. Robertson as Assistant Scoutmaster brought cheers from the 32 active Boy Scouts in Troop No. 1 and greatly-needed aid to Maughan.

The Boy Scout Troop Committee, headed by Delmer Jones, will work closely with the Scoutmasters to maintain interest and an active Scout program. The full committee will have Roy Jensen as secretary; James Adamson, treasurer; James Collins, property man; Jack O'Neil will head the Scout Advancement sub-committee, assisted by Paul Brewer, Oleg Skaredoff, and James Spence; Ray Bowman will head the Outdoorsman subcommittee assisted by Bob Gibson, David Seifert and C. R. Pierce.

Merle Higby has been appointed Institutional Representative from the Chamber of Commerce, the Boy Scout sponsoring organization. Higby will act as liason between the two groups and serve as publicity chairman for the Boy Scouts.

Interest in both the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts has continued to increase in Newark and it is the hope of the adult leaders now serving that it won't slow down now, but will continue to grow with the population. As more boys and parents join the Scout organizations it brings the day when Newark will establish a second Cub Pack and second Boy Scout Troop that much closer, according to Redeker.

All boys aged 12 and over are eligible to enter the Boy Scouts, regardless of whether they have had previous Cub Scout training, according to Scoutmaster Edwin Maughan. However it is a great advantage to the boy if he has a Cubbing background and Maughan says that parents of young boys of Cub age should be encouraged to give their sons the opportunity to enrich their lives through Cub Scout experience and then follow up with the Boy Scout activities.

The same rule concerning past experience holds true with the Explorer Scouts. No previous Scout training is necessary for boys age 14 and older to be eligible to join the Explorers. The Explorers, because they are older boys in the throes of becoming young men, are given much more latitude in governing themselves and choosing their own activities. Rather than having a "master", the Explorers have an adult Explorer Advisor to guide and counsel them as they lead

The Newark Explorer Post No. 1 is in the process of being rejuvenated at the present time. The Post had been temporarily disbanded when it was left without an advisor when Gerard Gorman resigned.

Bert Barnett and Marvin Hudson have volunteered to serve as Advisors to the Explorer Post No. 1 and they welcome young boys age 14 and older to join and start the Explorer activities. They are receiving help from Sam Arnold, Institution Representative from the Kiwanis Club, and from Frank Ferry and an active committee of fathers will be organized along the same lines as for the Boy Scouts.

Parents of boys 8 years or older are welcome to investigate the advantages of Scout training for their boys and have them be a part of the booming Scout expansion in Newark, said Ferry.

Cubs Win Awards At Newark School

More than fifty Cub Scouts and their parents attended the Cub Pack Christmas program and presentation of awards at the Newark school last Friday.

Highlight of the evening, which started on a Christmas note with the opening ceremony by Den 3 and Webelo awards and followed through the three skits by Dens 4, 5 and 7, was the arrival of Santa Claus with his treats.

Webelos badges and certificates were awarded to Dennis Jones, Edward Gibson, Bobby Brewer and Michael Spence by Cubmaster Garry Armstrong.

Armstrong then presented awards to all the Cubs who earned them with their activities the past month.

Den 1: Bobcat pins were awarded the following: Bruce Harris, Walter Silva, Gary Mitchell, Billy Bannowsky, Griff Martin and Jim Rhodes.

Den 2: Brad Galithon and John Avila, Bobcat pins.

Den 3: One-year pins were awarded to: Bobby Beshears, Charles Bowman, Alan Ingersoll, John McDermott, Bill Williams, Michael Nunes, Bobby Brewer and Dennis Jones. Glen Armstrong, 2 Silver Arrow Points on Bear Badge; Dale Etchison, 1 Gold and 2 Silver Arrow Points on Lion Badge; David Dewey, Bobcat pin.

Den 4: Ronnie Hinkley, Bear Badge and 1 yr. pin; Alan Redeker, 1 Gold and 1 Silver Arrow Point, Lion Badge; Bruce Hobbs, 1 yr. pin; Rodney Thiessen, 1 yr. pin and Denner Stripes; Steve Redeker, Bobcat pin; Gene Brown, 1 yr. pin; Leo Paz, 1 Gold arrow point, Lion Badge and 1 yr. pin; Bruce O'Connor, 1 yr. pin; Gene Gastelum, 1 yr. pin as Den Chief; John Binder, Skip Lacey and Edwin Mello each received the Cub Scout Card and Bobcat Pins.

Den 5: James Slater, Silver Arrow Point on Wolf Badge; Randy Blazian, Silver Arrow Point on Wolf Badge; Junior Brannon, Denner Stripes; John Goza, Co-Denner Stripe; Timothy O'Neill, Bobcat pin and card; Kenneth Gray, Bobcat pin and card; Mike O'Neill and Ronnie Valles, 1 yr. pins.

Den 6: Billy Hoover, Co-Denner Stripe; Danny Barao, Denner Stripes; Jimmy Nevis, 1 yr. pin; and Gold Arrow Point on Wolf Badge; Ronnie Meck, Ronnie McDermott, and Richard Robertson, 1 yr. pins.

Den 7: Paul Maughan, 2 Silver Arrow Points on Bear Badge; Grant Maughan, 1 Gold and 2 Silver Arrow Points, Wolf Badge; Jeff Veach, Gold and Silver Arrow Point on Wolf Badge and Co-Denner Stripe; Gary Carroll, Gold and Silver Arrow Point on Wolf Badge; Svetik Skaredoff, Gold and Silver Arrow Point, Wolf Badge.

The Cub Scouts made the decorations for a Christmas tree given them by their sponsors, Knights of Pythias Lodge, and will display it at Paul's Barber Shop on Sycamore Street.

Newark 'City' Fund At Halfway Point

Funds to provide for the study of incorporation of Newark have nearly reached the half-way mark, according to Leonard Lucio, chairman of the committee which is seeking to raise $1000 to finance the study.

Latest contributions raising the amount to $425 have come from Charles Snow, Dr. Howard Buschke, George Latham of Tubeweld Associates, Tony Martin of J. J. Bar, Anthony Dutra of Newark Electric, Leonard Seeley of Joaquin Builders, Newark Accounting Service, Joseph Pashote, Newark Pharmacy, Central Valley Bank, Milani Estates, and Home Owners Improvement Association.

The Newark PTA has indorsed the study, but is prevented by national PTA by-laws from financial contribution.

Lucio stated that $500 must be raised before the study by Kroeger and Associates can be started. It is estimated that the study will take three weeks. The balance of the funds is needed for operating expense. The drive closes December 20.

Ask Rezoning For Homes At Irvington

Rezoning of 36 acres of industrial property south of Irvington was suggested Tuesday before the local chamber of commerce.

Leonard Seeley, San Leandro realtor, asked consideration of the change, saying he wants to put homes on 5000-foot lots there.

The request was relayed by Pres. A. E. Alameda to the chamber's planning committee for a report.

Seeley said he has optioned the John Joseph property along Highway 17 south of Irvington Square, but that it is now zoned for light industry. (It backs up to the railroad tracks.) He asked to be allowed to make a presentation to the committee.

Jack Prouty, member of the Alameda County New Industries Committee, warned however that yielding industrial property for subdivisions will drive factories, payrolls and desireable tax-producers away from Irvington.

Christmas Play For Mission Mothers

"The Night Before Christmas" was a play presented last week for a meeting of the Mission San Jose Mothers Club at the school.

Mrs. Sally Wall's fourth grade presented the show, which starred Jackie Bell as Santa; plus Douglas Dethlefs, Donna Thatcher, Vickie Lovin and Philip Sparks.

Mrs. Grindle directed the seventh and eighth grades in a concert of holiday carols, and Mrs. Marian O'Flaherty's wire recording of music accompanied a fourth grade choral program.

Mrs. Hugh Monger played grownup Santa for the children.

Decoto Merchants Form New Group

Strictly for Decoto businessmen is the new Decoto Merchants and Business Association, which held its first official meeting Wednesday at Ann & Ed's Cafe.

President of the group is Manuel Hidalgo, onetime president of the local chamber of commerce. Other officers are Ralph Reyes, vice-president; Mrs. Gladys Keller, secretary; and David Escobedo, treasurer. Additional director is James Maldonado.

Hidalgo said weekly noon sessions will be held at the restaurant on Wednesdays, with dues set at $20 a year. All business and professional men and women of Decoto are invited to join.

Principal difference between the new group and the Chamber is that the chamber accepts persons who are not engaged in retail business, association officials explained.

Parking Lot Ready For Shoppers

Centerville's merchant parking lot — 43 stalls for the convenience of downtown shoppers — was dedicated yesterday.

Bob Coats, Clements & Co. executive, snipped the red ribbon at the lot's Main Street entrance and officially opened the facility to the public.

Coats' firm, plus Pacific Coast Aggregates and Rhodes & Jamieson donated more than $4000 in labor and materials to make the lot possible.

Phil Willis, chairman of a chamber of commerce committee which procured the lot, paid tribute to the three firms in a brief eulogy, and also commented that the project illustrates how civic cooperation can bring benefits to a community.

Entrance to the lot is from Main Street only, and exit only is on Fremont Avenue. The State Division of Highways has agreed to paint out the double line opposite the Main Street entrance, Willis said, so left turns into the lot can be made legally.

At Monday's chamber meeting, Willis reported:

1. P. C. Hansen Co. donated material for two large signs at the entrance, and

2. Jibson Bros., represented by Bill Jibson, furnished materials and labor to open the necessary concrete driveway into Main St. Jibson himself manned the jackhammer for this job.

Girl Scouts Will Carol December 22

By JEANNE CARROLL

Girl Scout Troops in Washington Township all will be busy on Wednesday evening, December 22 when they go carolling around their local residential sections, then sing carols and distribute favors at the Township rest homes.

Following this activity the Troops will convene in the Washington High cafeteria for refreshments. Mrs. Marjorie Hadley, Irvington, chairman of the Adult Girl Scout District, and the troop leaders are planning the evening.

It was a similar activity last year that led Township Girl Scout Troops into a cooperative program that has resulted in the District being praised in the December issue of the Girl Scout Leader.

The Washington Township District has expanded its annual Christmas program for the Masonic Home into a year-round program by "adopting" all the rest homes and have made gifts, corsages, and favors for holiday celebrations and have sent many cards for special occasions as well as singing and putting on programs to entertain the residents.

The rest homes have expressed great appreciation, since many of the residents are aged and lonesome, with little to break the monotony of every day. The old people have shown their pleasure with gestures like a little surprise of soft drinks and cookies for a troop's visit. Troop members feel they can actually see the results of their service projects and have made new and interesting friends.

Earmark Armory For Centerville

A $100,000-plus National Guard Armory for Centerville is included in a $40,000,000 long-range State building program announced for the East Bay last week.

No money is allocated for the armory, but State officials said it can be built within the next five years (1) if budget funds are forthcoming, and (2) if about two acres of Township land are donated for it.

The National Guard artillery here is housed in a converted icehouse at the end of Alder Avenue, north of Centerville. With more than 70 men on the rolls now, the unit will someday need larger quarters, it was explained.

Sidewalks Lose In Decoto Vote

Sidewalks lost out in an informal poll of Decoto property owners last Saturday.

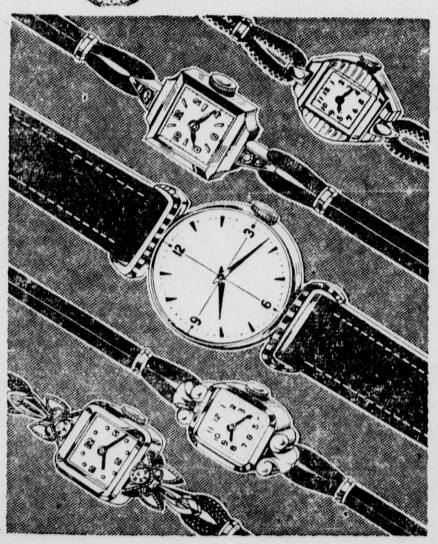

Voting in the "public opinion" ballot requested by County Supervisors, ran 345 "no" to 275 "yes". About three fourths of the town's eligible landowners balloted at Barnard School. Supervisors are to consider formation of a district this morning in Oakland, and have promised to take results of the election into consideration.

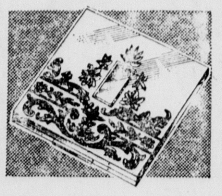

A citizen group opposed the plan, contending it would cost as much as $400 for interior lots and $600 for corner lots.

Trustees of the Decoto School District had asked to be excluded from the district for lack of budgeted funds to install the walks.

Cake Sale Success

Mrs. Ray Bean of Centerville entertained a few of the ladies who helped with the annual cake sale in conjunction with the Centerville P-TA whist party. Those attending the coffee party last Thursday morning were Mmes. Wayne Fritch, Ted Ebbage, Johnnie Johnston, William Wootton, Dennett Dosher, Edward Fabbri, and Vernon Brown.

A profit of $96.50 was realized from the cake sale.

Township Juniors Hear By-Laws

Washington Township Junior Woman's Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Howard Mohn, 150 Dutra Way, Centerville, for the first reading of its new by-laws, presented by Mrs. Paul Melvin, chairman of the by-laws committee.

Mrs. Edward Chadbourne, president of the Country Club, was a special guest for the evening.

Philanthrophic chairman Mrs. Dean Davenport, presented several projects to the group. It was decided to assist in the gift wrapping of packages for servicemen at Parks Air Base. Also to help furnish rides to Barbara Gene of Irvington to Decoto in order for her to attend the Sunrise School in Hayward.

An invitation was received from the Montclair Juniors to a Reciprocity Tea on Tuesday evening, December 14. The local officers and Mrs. Howard Overacker, Country Club advisor, attended.

Mrs. Lester Courson, president, announced that 14 members from the Juniors attended the Christmas Tea given by the Country Club on Tuesday, December 7. The president also announced at this time the recent appointment of chairmen and committee members.

Reporting the financial success of the recent apron sale, Mrs. James Herd, Jr., chairman, thanked the club members and expressed her appreciation to the local residents for their patronage.

It was decided that a Christmas gift exchange between the members would be held at the next meeting, Monday evening, December 20, at the home of Mrs. Robert Drouin, 452 Norris Road, Centerville. The by-laws will be re-read and voted on at this time.

More than 100,000 tons of steel were used in the construction of the Golden Gate Bridge at San Francisco.

Christmas Pageant At WUHS Friday

Washington Union High School's annual Christmas pageant will be presented to the community on Friday evening, December 17.

The impressive production, combining the talents of the students in the music and dramatics departments, is titled "And Lo, the Star".

The pageant is one of the highlights of the Christmas season to which the entire community is invited. The program is scheduled for the high school auditorium at 7:30 with a half-hour of organ music preceeding the actual pageant presentation.

Dramatics instructor Ronald Lambert and music instructors Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Thornburg are responsible for this year's production.

WUHS Joins In Toy Campaign

In conjunction with the Marine Corps "Toys for Tots" Drive, the Washington Union High School Speech Arts Club is participating locally in the national effort. The newly-formed club has already launched their drive which will end on December 17.

Club members Fletcher Greathouse, Tom Biddlecome, Joe Alter, Craig Bellati, Tim Louie, Marveen Lofton, Bill Tolley, Carol Hickman, Wanda O'Mara, Joan Ross and Becky Overacker have made the announcements in the classrooms explaining the purpose of the drive and asking the students to bring usable toys to be turned over to the Marines for local distribution.

Speech Arts Club President Jackie Vogt is in charge of the drive and she is being assisted by Pat Spurgeon and Jim Hoover. Faculty adviser is Ronald Lambert.

Laura Loma Names Leontine Rose

Mrs. Leontine Rose was nominated President of Laura Loma Parlor No. 182, Native Daughters of the Golden West, at the last meeting held in Ford Hall, December 7.

Others nominated were: past president, Mrs. Norman Rose; first vice president, Mrs. Richard Davis; second vice president, Mrs. Charles W. Frick; third vice president, Mrs. Louis Havey; recording secretary, Mrs. Clarence Crane; financial secretary, Patricia Rose; treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Freitas; marshal, Mrs. Arnold Bellini; inside sentinel, Mrs. Guido Tuana; outside sentinel, Mrs. Joseph Janeiro; organist, Mrs. Anthony Fields; trustees: Mrs. Ivy Cull, Mrs. Mae E. Moore, Mrs. Elvie Cordoza.

One hundred fifty members and guests of Laura Loma Parlor and Betsy Ross Parlor attended the meeting on November 30 when Grand President Doris M. Gerrish of Sacramento made her official visit to the two Parlors.

Other honored guests were Grand Trustees Irma Caton, Edna Williams; Grand Outside Sentinel Alice Shea; Past Grand President Evelyn I. Carlson; Supervising District Deputy Claudia Evans; Deputies Dorothy Van De Graaf and Virginia Klier.

Visitors from Redwood City, Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco Hayward, Pleasanton, Castro Valley, San Jose, Alameda, Sutter, Sacramento also attended the meeting.

On December 21, Laura Loma will hold its annual Christmas Party with Mrs. Mae E. Moore and Mrs. Guido Tuana in charge of arrangements. Also assisting with the refreshments are: Mrs. Joseph Janeiro, Mrs. Arnold Bellini, Mrs. Louis Havey, Mrs. Richard Davis, Mrs. Anthony Fields, Patricia Rose.

Members are asked to bring exchange gifts and also jams and jellies which will be sent to the Native Daughter Home in San Francisco. At the last meeting, members each "adopted" a resident of the Native Daughter Home to remember throughout the year.

Mrs. Clarence Crane, Deputy to Pleasanton Parlor, Mrs. Louis Zwissig, and Mr. Clarence Crane attended the annual Christmas dinner given by Pleasanton Parlor No. 237, Native Daughters and Pleasanton Parlor of the Native Sons, in Pleasanton, December 11.

DIANA DETTMER

Diana Dettmer To Wed Eldon Taylor

The engagement of the lovely Diana Dettmer was announced recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foxon of Market Street, Newark.

The benedict-to-be is Eldon Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor of Strathmore, California.

Taylor is a graduate of Strathmore High School and is residing in Newark with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bimemiller (his sister and brother-in-law) while working for Holly Sugar Co. in Alvarado.

Miss Dettmer is a senior at Washington High and wedding plans will await her graduation next June.

Tree Sale Sends Boys To Camp

Proceeds from the sale of Christmas trees on the lot at Towers Way and Thornton Avenue in Orchard Park will send boys to a summer camp.

The lot is being operated by the Newark Boy Scout Troop No. 1 and according to Edwin Maughan, Scoutmaster, they hope to pay the cost of sending all the Scouts to summer camp in 1955.

Surprise Shower

Guest of honor at a surprise baby shower held at the home of Mrs. Mary Marshall in Newark was Earlie Mae Freiley (Mrs. J. W.). Assisting Mary as hostesses were Earline Adams and Connie Emmett.

Showering Earlie Mae with gifts for the expected arrival were Irene Davis, Audna Sudbury, Carol Glantz, Blanche Prosser, Jean Welch, Lena Welch, Della Ledford, Marie Silva and Jean Runnels.

Benevolent Society Honors Dr. de Campos

The Benevolent Society of California held a testimonial dinner at the California Hotel in Fresno on December 11 to commemorate twenty years of service by Dr. Raul de Campos, grand medical examiner, of Hanford; and Manuel Reis, grand secretary and treasurer, of San Francisco.

Dr. de Campos is a graduate of Washington Union High School, class of 1920.

They were presented with gifts from the organization.

More than 200 friends and members attended, including these from the Township: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Day, Centerville; Mr. and Mrs. Antone Rogers, Alvarado; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry, Hayward; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bettencourt, Centerville; and Mr. and Mrs. Bettencourt, Warm Springs.

DeGuadalupe YLI Holds Yule Social

One of the most enjoyable parties of the year was the annual Christmas social held by De Guadalupe Institute No. 74, Y.L.I., on December 2 in Holy Ghost Parish Hall, Centerville with Mrs. Joseph Santos as chairman of the evening.

Instead of exchanging gifts as in the past, members brought little gifts to be added to the layettes being prepared by Welfare Chairman Mrs. Fred Dias and her committee.

With these, members were able to complete four layettes to be distributed during the year. In addition to regular Christmas gifts, four large Christmas baskets are being given to the Holy Family Sisters for distribution.

The next social will take the form of a "Come As You Are" Party and will be held in January with Alice Sloniker and Claire Ferreira in charge of arrangements.

Abneys Remember Friends In Display

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Abney, owners of the Candlelite Cafe, Niles will have unusual and beautiful Christmas scenes portrayed in their restaurant for the holiday season.

The scenes will be religious in nature and the Abneys wish to dedicate them as a token of goodwill to everyone and to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Al Juhl and Richard Gellersen whose friendship meant so much to them.

Ellen Mohn New Rebekah Chief

New Noble Grand of Irvington Silver Star Rebekah Lodge is Mrs. Ellen Mohn.

Officers elected to serve with her are: Justine Adams, vice grand; Mrs. Hazel Barmon, recording secretary; Mrs. Anna Van Buskirk, financial secretary; Mrs. Ivy Cull, treasurer and Mrs. Iva Marble, trustee.

The lodge will have a pot-luck dinner at their next meeting, December 17, at 6:30 p.m., I.O.O.F. Hall in Irvington.

'Guys, Dolls' Dance Has Winter Theme

"Winter Wonderland" is the theme of this year's social affairs committee dance at Washington Union High School.

The social affairs committee, better known as the Guys and Dolls Committee, each year sponsors one of the top dances on the school calendar.

The dressy affair is scheduled for the high school gymnasium on Saturday evening, December 18. Jed Oxborrow's band will provide music for the dancing from 9 'til 12.

Committee chairmen working on the arrangements are Joan Ross, Ken Galloway, Eddie Vierra, Harry Avila, Jeanne Kerlin and Jackie Vogt. Robert Moeller is advisor for the group.

All alumni and friends are invited. Admission is $1.00 per couple.

Native Sons Party Marks 64th Year

Washington Parlor No. 169, Native Sons, celebrated their 64th birthday December 7 with a party. There was a turkey dinner and refreshments served to 120 people, 75 of who were local members.

Maurice O'Brien was chairman and Wilbert Pine, co-chairman.

Guests included Grand-third Vice-president Larry La Fleur, Hayward, Past Grand President Richard McCarthy, Piedmont, Past Grand President Peter T. Commy, Presidio, San Francisco, Grand Trustee William Burke and Grand-Organist Miller Markey.

Old-timers were honored the same evening, one being Charles Cockefair who has 60 years membership with the Native Sons.

Starting January 1, the parlor will hold their annual Pinochle tournament and will give the local champion, Louis Cardoza, a run for his money. The team will consist of Clyde Rego and Al Silveria.

Decoto PTA Party

A Christmas pageant will be presented at Thursday's (tonight's) meeting of the Decoto PTA. Pageant will be under direction of Monte de Rey and Neal Kauffman, with Christmas music by the Decoto chorus.

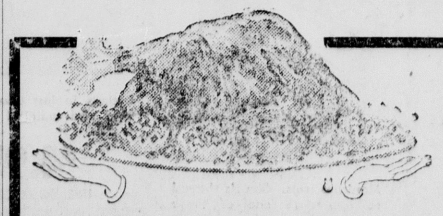

Mrs. Hazel Costa, president, will conduct a short business meeting. A prize will be awarded to the class having the greatest number of parents present at this meeting, according to Mrs. Grace Caminada, publicity chairman.

The PTA wishes to thank local business men who contributed prizes and members who helped to make their recent whist party a success.

Who's Got The Bell? Not Us

Huskies Suffer 4th Cage Loss to Bellarmine, 71-25

Coach Clyde Voorhees' Washington High Huskies lost their fourth game in a row, last Friday, bowing to the Bellarmine Bells here by a score of 71-25.

The Bells had no difficulty at all in downing the Orange-and-black, paced by lanky Ralph Brandt who scored 22 points with a combination of jump and hook shots.

The victory was the third in succession for the Bells whose only loss was to San Jose in their opening game. It was the Huskies' worst defeat to date.

Jim Meyer, center standout, contributed to Washington's cause with 7 points. Meyer's teammates had difficulty in getting the ball to him under the basket due to the Bell's advantage in height and their tight defense.

Bellarmine peppered the Washington basket for 20 tallies in the first quarter, while the locals responded with a mere four, all via the cnarity route.

In the second quarter, the Huskies hustled the score up to 23-12, but the visitors pulled far in the lead again at halftime, 35-14.

The mismatch continued in the third canto, with Brandt and towering Larry Oreglia leading the assault for a 55-21 margin. The Huskies were held to four markers in the final period, and the Bells scored 14 straight.

Menlo Romps, 61-36, In Hoop Tilt

By Jerry Sanford

The Menlo-Atherton Bears romped to an easy 61-36 victory over the winless Washington Huskies last week in a practice tilt.

It was the same old story. The visitors were just too big. The Bears got off to a fast start, controlling the game all the way. Menlo-Atherton led 35-14 at half time and their lead increased as the game progressed.

The Huskies got very few rebounds and had little chance to shoot, usually getting only one shot each time they gained possession of the ball.

Bill Hilton, 6-foot, 3-inch forward, potted 16 points for the Bears. Tm Blackwood who formerly played with Mountain View, and was all-SCVAL, hit for 14 digits.

Washington was once again led by Jim Meyer with 14 points. Meyer made a couple of beautiful lay-ups, turning in another spectacular performance.

Pirate Dunks Husky, 61-47

The Huskies put up a good fight last Wednesday, outscoring San Leandro here, in the second half but could not overcome a 19-point lead by the Pirates at halftime and came out on the short end of a 61-47 score.

Coach Clyde Voorhees' quintet showed great improvement over their first two games. Washington had previously lost by scores of 50-32 and 46-17. San Leandro was paced by John Briscoe, who sank 17 points, and Bob Dalton, with 13.

Center Jim Meyer led the Huskies with 14 points and also turned in a fine performance on defense. Washington's Al Rodriguez scored 10 points, 8 of them on charity tosses.

Glenmoor Quint Trims Newark

Glenmoor's five came through to win, 59 to 52 over an unlimited Newark team last Saturday at the Glenmoor Park.

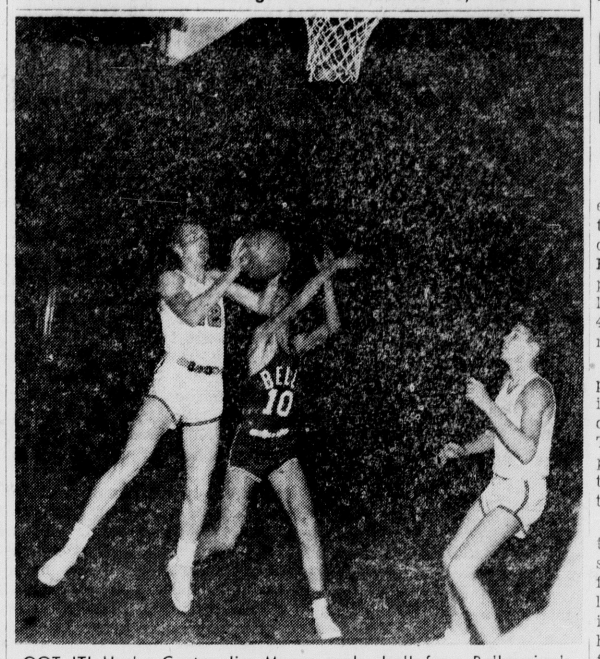

Jim Meyer paced the team with 25 points scored in the fast-moving contest. Gilbert Cobaruiz tallied second highest with 20 points.

Other members of the Glenmoor team, managed by Glen Camper, park director, were Gary Crain, Phil Lamoni, and Laurel Mayer. Alan Olk was top man for the visitors.

Next Saturday, Glenmoor Park will be represented on the Newark Court by the nine to twelve-year-old team. Game time is 1:30 at the Newark School.

Burglar Suspect

Reginaldo Galan, 22, of 401 Seventh Street, Decoto, charged with the burglary of a Decoto grocery has been released on $1,500 bail.

Hernandez In End Slot On All-SCVAL Lightweight Team

Arnold Hernandez, pass-receiving star of Coach Gene Johnson's Washington Hi lightweights during the past grid season, was placed at end on the all-SCVAL 'B" team just selected by Santa Clara Valley Athletic Association coaches.

Hernandez was a stickout on both offense and defense for the Pups, who ended their year with two wins and four losses. Weighing 138 pounds, he latched onto 17 passes for a net 302 yards.

Dennis Moffat, rapidly-improving 148-pounder, landed on the second team. The rugged Moffet is judged a good 'varsity prospect in '55.

Johnny Adams, quarterback for the Pups; and Fullback Stan-Rebello also rated honorable mention in the mentors' picks. Their work would have placed them much higher on any but a losing club.

Champion Santa Clara copped the bulk of the all-league honors. Bob Mello, standout tackle, was named lineman-of-the-year. Back-of-the-year kudos was shared between Ted Abe, versatile Los Gatos quarterback; and Joe Bermudes, Fremont fullback.

Abe, a senior, is a trackman whose brainy direction meant the difference in several Kitten contests. Bermudes got off long runs in virtually every game.

The "B" all-star first squad;

END: Jim Fuller, Los Gatos; Arnold Hernandez, Washington.

TACKLE: Bob Mello, Santa Clara; Joe Pusateri, Fremont.

GUARD: Clen Cureton, Campbell; Charles Bowling, Fremont.

CENTER: Roy Lopez, Santa Clara.

BACKS: Ted Abe, Los Gatos; Bill Oliver, Santa Clara; Bob Roller, Los Gatos; Joe Bermudes, Fremont.

Niles Sports Clubhouse Planned

The Niles Sportsmen's Club last week named Joe Perry chairman of a committee to plan construction of a clubhouse on the organization's range north of Mission San Jose.

Awards were announced for the club's top huntsmen and fishermen. Club president Joe Dooley received a $10 prize for biggest deer.

Prize for the biggest deer shot in the local area went to Bud Pine.

Earl Walters received recognition for smallest deer taken this season. Clarence Pine was winner of the bass derby, with a 15-pound catch.

More than 100 members and guests were present in Boliba's hall for this meeting. President Dooley announced that 20 new members would be initiated at the next club meeting, to be held on December 28.

Cubs Maul Our B's In Cage Practice

Washington High's B basketball team absorbed another defeat, this time from Menlo-Atherton by a 35-27 score in a practice game last Tuesday.

The Pups now have a 2-3 record, but it could have been the opposite if Coach Don Wolfe had used his first string throughout the game. Wolfe used his reserves freely to provide them experience giving his starting five a rest.

Menlo-Atherton's Don DeFeo took scoring honors with 12 points. Kenny Ornellas tallied 6 for the Pups while sophomores Monico Paler and Gary Payton each had 4 markers.

Pups Show Best Form, Trim Bell 'B' Quint By 40-28

By Jerry Sanford

Monico Paler, who has sparked the Pups in every game they have played so far, put on another fine exhibition last Friday when he poured 14 points through the hoop in leading Washington's B's to a 40-28 triumph over the Bellarmine lightweights.

It was a close battle for three periods with Washington leading 7-6 at the end of the first quarter and 16-12 at the half. Then the Bells rallied for 12 points to the Pup's 8 and at the end of the third period had tied the score, 24-24.

Paler and Kenny Ornellas then went on a wild scoring spree. They led the Pups to a fast 16 points and took a 40-24 lead with 15 seconds remaining in the contest. The Pups almost held the Bells scoreless in the final period, but couldn't stop two fast field goals in the final seconds of game.

The Washington High Puppies met defeat at the hands of the San Leandro junior varsity hoopsters by a score of 35-24, here last Wednesday.

The game got off to a slow start. San Leandro led at the end of the first quarter 6-5, and at the half, 16-11. In the third quarter the Pirates ran up 11 points while holding the Pups scoreless.

Rudy Trejo led the pirate attack with 7 points while Gary Payton had 6 and Monico Paler 4 for Washington.

More About The Water Company

Chamber Secretary Vernon Ellsworth agreed to write the utility company asking if it is interested in making the Alameda County Water District an offer for its distribution system.

In other business, Dr. Wilson and Elmer Marks agreed to travel to Sacramento Friday to aid the Hayward Area Chamber in its fight before the State Highway Commission. This is aimed at providing better highways in Southern Alameda County, including plans and rights-of-way for Niles Highway south of Hayward.

Water District Tightens Rules

Directors of the Alameda County Water District moved last week to tighten conditions under which temporary water service will be granted customers.

Subdividers and contractors were notified of the new rules in letters dispatched today by Dist. Mgr. Matt Whitfield.

Taking water from hydrants is prohibited under the new law. Meter charge for the temporary service is set at 25 cents a day, and deposits are specified. The district also "reserves the right to refuse" service on a temporary basis.

Ask Garbage Franchise Here

Exclusive franchise to collect garbage in the Newark, Niles, Centerville and Decoto region was sought last Monday from the Union Sanitary District by the East Bay Garbage Co.

Al Gamba, for the company, said his firm had pioneered garbage collection in the Township, and feels that now it should have a chance to bid on exclusive service.

Directors headed by George Coit promised Gamba's attorney Gene Rhodes they will study the request.

The sanitary district also is considering an annexation request from owners of farm land along Whipple and Decoto Roads, which could result in a connection at the district's Beard Road main.

Niles Highway Zoning Debated

pointed out. "That caused the highway to be relocated to its present site."

Baine Lenusk also entered a plea for commercial zoning at his market and for adjoining property he owns on Fremont Avenue.

Two industries had representatives at the Oakland courthouse session. Nick Pessagno appeared for Interlocking Tile, and Oscar Dowe for Pacific States Steel Corp.

Dowe said the firm owns land across the Southern Pacific tracks which it intends some day to use for expansion of the Niles mill. He asked this be considered for industrial zoning.

"There's too much residential use already in our immediate area," Dowe warned. "As we expand, we don't want increasing complaints from homeowners about our operations."

Pessagno said his tile factory also may want to expand, and asked that land it owns be zoned industrial about halfway to Highway 9, as did Dowe.

Mellmann then theorized that perhaps the commission should create a buffer zone at the north edge of this industrial property, "which could be landscaped to protect homes along the highway."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Richard Klippert said he doubts this is legally possible.

Both industrialists were supported by R. D. Rodenberger, S. P. representative, who warned Niles must set aside more land for industry if it wants to hold taxes down.

Mellmann at length moved the 2-hour hearing be resumed on January 24, and asked:

1. All interested property-owners to submit their cases in writing, with maps, before then; and

2. Thomas and his staff to make any changes by them they feel necessary as a result of the initial hearing.

Final zoning must be approved by County Supervisors.

Inside Township Industries

By Harriet Gettings

In Warm Springs, on Railroad Avenue, is a place where many a woman's dreams begin!

The Fix Mink Ranch, which has been in Washington Township for five years, will make this a never-to-be forgotten Christmas for several dozen women.

Robert Fix started in Wisconsin in 1937 with just three mink and except for some time out for military service, has been mink ranching since then. He now has 1600 animals, worth about $50,000. Aided by his son Robert, junior, Fix shipped 900 pelts, starting last month, the mink grower's busiest time.

The mink is a vicious animal, and can not be handled or petted. They are raised in cages much like rabbits. They breed once a year, with litters of from three to twelve; four being the average. The young mink, called kits, mature in four months, and proceed from a kit to a coat for milady in six months. November is the only time mink are pelted, since their fur is at its best then.

A mink's diet is usually fish, tripe and cereal. The Warm Springs Ranch uses about 800 pounds of fish daily, so Fix must make frequent trips to Santa Cruz to obtain it. The Coast is an ideal place for mink raising, as they do not need cold weather to grow thick fur, but must have a good supply of food.

The best stock is kept each year for breeding purposes. The mink is killed with cyanide, and after skinning and drying is shipped "raw," by air express, to New York. Pelts are auctioned to experts who can tell by a quick examination of the tail and the underside of the fur just what grade it is. Prices usually range from $60 to $150 per pelt, depending upon the color. Mink skins now come in almost every shade except green, including a "pink mink." The Fix Ranch has several types, from natural to sapphire.

A mink coat will contain 55 male, or 70 female skins. Scraps are used in other coats, always matching each other for the best effect. It costs at least $1,000 to make the coat, not counting the cost of the fur, so you can see where the $5,000-to-$7,000 price tag comes from.

Mink are not hard to raise, according to Fix. The only illness of any concern to ranchers is food poisoning.

"The mink ranching field is wide open," Fix says, "and it can show a one-hundred percent profit in a year. However, the original investment is large, and since pelts are sold only every twelve months, there is no monthly income."

Visitors are welcome anytime. Fix is there to guide them around the ranch.

Oh yes, if it's any consolation to you, Mrs. Fix does not have a mink coat!

Warm Springs

Supervisor Chester Stanley, who originally had sought to send the issue back to the chamber for recommendation, suggested another public poll. But Michael countered this would prolong arguments which have gone on for nearly three years, and accomplish nothing.

Planning Director John J. Thomas commented that the commission had looked far enough ahead when they earmarked residential land for a population of 6000. He said the new proposal would open up land for 24,000 people "or 60 times the town's present population."

This, predicted Thomas, would open up the area for "uncontrolled growth". He also urged the town's outskirts be left in the agricultural category, and rezoned as development occurs, "so that decisions won't be forced on you now."

Pursel then pressed for a vote, and all four supervisors present (Clifford Wixson having resigned that day) voted 'aye."

Gilmore told the Board he reserves the right to ask residential rezoning for the Solano Land Co., property along Landing Road.

As zoned, Warm Springs now becomes residential for 5300 feet south of Railroad Avenue along Highway 17, to a depth of 1750 feet eastward. Industry is located 6200 feet along the highway from the highway west to the Freeway. The balance is agricultural, which requires rezoning processes before it can be changed for tract homes or factories.

Rezoning may be necessary, commented Pursel, "but something now is better than nothing."

At Thursday's Warm Springs session, Gilmore offered to write the necessary letter of recommendation to the county officials, using chamber of commerce stationery. However, the attorney later was persuaded by Venturi to delay sending it until the Supervisors met.

The chamber's about-face recommendation far exceeded the original request made by Gilmore. It would have zoned some 800 acres for homes.

Andy Azevedo, chairman of the chamber's planning committee, said Gilmore had asked him to have the chamber reconsider its original stand. He admitted this left his committee "in a quandry", and said he had called a meeting of the property-owners involved, and that they wanted it zoned residential.

Stuart Nixon, newspaperman and member of the Alameda County New Industries Committee, pointed out that industry refuses to settle near subdivisions because of eventual complaints from homeowners.

"This is the finest industrial property left in the county," he declared. "It is near the Ford Plant, it has two major railroads running through it. It can provide you with a healthy tax base, something you'll never get from cheap homes. Why ruin it?"

Azevedo replied:

"The owners tell me they have a chance to sell, and so they want it zoned residential. We shouldn't inflict a hardship on them, so they can't make a turnover."

Asked what type of homes his clients planned to build, Gilmore said he didn't know yet, but said they would be "workers' homes", and suggested the chamber make a recommendation about lot sizes at its next meeting. Originally the residential part of Warm Springs had been considered by local residents as suitable for nothing less than 6000-foot lots. In fact, said Azevedo, the chamber "is on record for 6000-foot lots."

However Gilmore said "scuttlebutt tells me the kind of homes we plan don't deserve 6000 feet, that the man who works all day long doesn't want that much property to keep up."

Would you like a Christmas poem or story, help on making a toy, or setting a holiday table?

Would you like to know how Christmas is celebrated in other lands, or how it was celebrated in the early days of our own country?

Do you need some help in planning decorations for the Christmas season. . . for your school, church, social hall, or for your home?

Are you interested in the origin of our Christmas customs, such as the Christmas tree, the Christmas card, the Christmas carol, the Yule Log? Do you want to renew your acquaintance with Dickens' "Chimes" "Christmas Carol" or "Cricket on the Hearth?" Do you want to read aloud to your children the beloved "Night Before Christmas" or the Scripture story from St. Luke?

Then drop in at your nearest branch of the Alameda County Library. There are ten branches in Washington Township to serve you: Alvarado, Alviso, Centerville, Decoto, Irvington, Masonic Home, Mission San Jose, Newark, Niles and Warm Springs.

Many children's books have very good descriptions of Christmas customs of different nationalities. Some titles to keep in mind are "Pedro, the angle of Olvera Street," "Elin's Amerika," "Good Master," "Emily of Deep Valley." For appealing stories of early day Christmases be sure to read the Laura Ingalls Wilder stories of pioneer days.

There will be special displays of the seasonal books, both adult and juvenile, and additional material may be obtained by consulting the attendant at the branch, according to June Young, Supervising Librarian.

County School Growth Told

Alameda County's school population increased by nearly 10,000 pupils during the past year, according to a report received today from County Superintendent of Schools Vaughn D. Seidel.

On November 1 of this year the number of kindergarten through junior college students was 141,410 as compared with 131,601 for the same period last fall. This represents an increase of 7.5 per cent.

Rural and suburban school districts in Southern Alameda County registered a 13.4 per cent increase, from 37,624 to 42,648, while kindergarten through high school enrollment in the city unified districts increased 3.1 per cent, from 92,942 to 95,821.

Five of the 26 rural and suburban districts registered gains over 20 per cent and 13 of them over 10 per cent. Mission San Jose, where a new 12-room school is now under construction, far exceeded any other district in the county in rate of growth with an enrollment gain of 68.5 per cent. Centerville follows with a gain of 43 per cent, and Newark with 35.1 per cent. Irvington grew 19.3 per cent.

TOWNSHIP SHOPPER

WHAT'S NEW IN LOCAL STORES.
By HARRIET GITTINGS

Sure to please any woman, and available at the Centerville Department Store, are those wool skirts, with matching tote-bags.

Make your gift for the home and family, using instructions for anything from toys to storage walls, waiting for you at P. C. Hansen Lumber Company, Niles, Decoto and Centerville.

All the latest in lighting, from TV lamps to table size can lighten your home, thanks to Sprouse-Reitz, Centerville.

Looking for something really different? Then see the one-of-a-kind Christmas hanging arrangements, and wreaths, that are Florence's Florist Originals, 139 Fremont Avenue, Centerville.

Ready to help you keep your hands lovely, the Newark Pharmacy now carries the complete Revlon Polish line, from undercoat to the newest colors.

Well known in Oakland for many years, George Ferreira now is ready to serve you at George's Upholstery Center, 3090 Thornton Avenue, Newark. He does both auto and furniture work.

West's Jewelry, 105 Mission, Irvington, displays genuine crystal necklace-sets in attractive cases, along with any other jewelry you could desire.

A welcome gift for any living room would be one of the new pictures in shadow-box frames, just received in time for Christmas, at Town and Country Furniture, 461 Thornton Avenue, Orchard Park.

This year make it a real holiday by taking the family out to the International Kitchen for dinner. For fastest service on one of their turkey, ham, or steak dinners try to arrive between 12:30 and 3, during the holiday rush.

High School Remodeling Bids Set

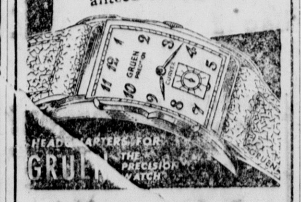

Bids for $200,000 in additions to Washington Hi will be called at a special trustees' meeting tonight.

The remodeling program can be undertaken only after the new $1,000,000 addition now under construction is completed, enabling students to vacate portions of the present plant, according to J. V. Goold, district superintendent.

The new project will include construction of a snack bar, expansion of commercial and homemaking quarters, and painting present buildings.

Trustees also will decide on the 4-month extension to finish the annex. This was requested by Bogdanich & Co., contractors on the job.

Oppose Land Loss To Santa Clara

The Washington Union High School District is opposing a Santa Clara County subdivider's proposal to chip off 80 acres from the southernmost tip of Alameda County.

M. J. Bernardo, trustee, presented the district's protest at a Supervisors' hearing in Oakland on Tuesday. The hearing was recessed until December 28.

Bernardo said the high school believes the move would mean a loss to the district's assessed valuation and would establish a bad precedent.

A Santa Clara County developer who bought property on both sides of the county line south of Warm Springs asked for the annexation to Santa Clara County to simplify his utilities problems.

Lobato Heads Sheriff Reserve

Elected captain of Washington Township Sheriff's Reserve last week was Walter Labato. Other new officers are Lieutenants Herman Baum and Beverley Bunting.

The newly elected officers will take charge in January and new sergeants will be appointed for the different squads.

A third Hunters Safety Class, sponsored by the Reserves, is now under way with 18 children attending, Lewis L. Lewis, instructor, announced that 21 junior hunters completed the second ccurse. Other instructors assisting Lewis are Fred Duffie and C. F. Janiero.

Extra Session For Newark Chamber?

Newark's chamber of commerce last week agreed to explore the possibility of having an extra meeting per month - at noon.

President Arthur Cotton named Clark Redeker, Jack MacGregor and M. A. Silva to a committee which is to report on the proposal January 12. The chamber now meets once a month, at night.

Members also voted to:

1. Ask the Supervisors for a school crossing guard at Dairy Avenue and Cherry Road, and

2. Ask the County Health Department to tell them how the promised investigation of a local hog farm is progressing.

Health Survey Set For Newark

A health survey will be undertaken in Newark soon after the first of the year under the auspices of the Newark P.T.A. to determine the extent of immunization of Newark children against smallpox and diptheria.

The survey will be made in cooperation with the County Health Department, according to Mrs. Marty Sammon, P.T.A. president.

A committee to choose a recipient of an Honorary Life Membership was also selected at the December 7 meeting. Three men, Neil Sheffield, Jack MacGregor, school superintendent and Clark Redeker will comprise the committee.

Mrs. Donna Scheideman was selected to head a committee to plan a talent show to be held in the spring. This will be a new field of activity for the local group.

The Newark P.T.A. will forego its January meeting. Next meeting is scheduled for February 3 at the school.

Hillview Group Backs Township 'City' Study

A Hillview Crest homeowners' group last week voted to join the current study of Township-wide cityhood.

Directors of the Hillview Crest Improvement Club named Clare Cook and Harry Spooner to act as representatives on the city-study committee, if the group's application is accepted by the Township-wide committee, headed by Wallace Pond of Irvington.

Directors also voted to trim an outdoor Christmas tree in the Community Church area.

S.F. Tickets Cost Local Man $175

Two years of unheeded traffic citations in San Francisco caught up with Robert Romo of Alvarado last week.

Deputies of Washington township substation last night took Romo into custody at the request of San Francisco police, who held 16 separate warrants, evidence of Romo's traffic violations there.

Bail on the 16 warrants added up to $175.

Niles Probe Backed By Teachers

Township teachers last week officially backed the Niles School Board for its support of Dist. Supt. E. Dixon Bristow in a disciplinary row raised by a parent group.

Meeting in Alvarado, the local section of the California Teachers Association also endorsed the investigation at Niles, requested jointly by Bristow and the trustees. This will be carried on by the CTA to see if (1) reading instruction is sound, (2) discipline is at the proper level, and (3) administration is good. The CTA is to conduct the probe.

The teachers voted to send a letter to the Niles trustees, commending them for the "vote of confidence" they gave Bristow, 33 years a principal at Niles.

The trustees' move, the letter reads, "demonstrates the principle of democratic action in upholding the teachers until all the facts are investigated. The ethics committee of the CTA was created for such a purpose."

The letter further states that "an attack such as that made upon the Niles school affects the entire teaching profession."

Bristow was not present at the meeting, but a group of Niles teachers reportedly said the faculty would welcome a CTA investigation.

VFW Yule Party

Paul E. Rivers Post No. 7906, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Alvarado, will hold their annual Christmas dinner, Sunday December 19, at the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles.

The families of the Post and Auxiliary members have been invited. Santa Claus will arrive after dinner with gifts and candy for the children.

Edward Fantuzzi is chairman of the affair.

Santa Coming To Irvington School

"Santa is coming to school!"

Yes, Santa will visit the various rooms at Irvington Grammar School Friday, December 17. There will be candy gifts for all according to Mrs. George Cook, Christmas chairman.

All pre-school children of Irvington are invited.

Decoto Chamber Installs Jan. 4

A Slate of officers, headed by Borghi, Jr., president, will be installed at a ladies night dinner of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce at the Italian Village, on January 4.

Borghi, Kenneth Garcia and Dr. Harold Schoenfeld have been named by President Al Ferreira to make arrangements. Each chamber member has been asked to bring a prospective member as a guest.

Other officers elected are Garcia and J. P. Falletti, vice presidents; S. Robert Infelise, secretary; Peter Decoto, treasurer; Phil Hernandez, sergeant-at -arms; Dr. Schoenfeld, parliamentarian; and William Davis, Manuel Seoane, Bernie Joseph and Peter Rodrigues, directors.

The chamber also voted to join the Decoto Community Coordinating Council.

CAROLLING AROUND NEWARK

GENE & JEANNE CARROLL
Newark 3-3564

Around Town — Well we picked up a few more morsels out of the phone book that are easy to digest, like. . . It is Keen for a kid to be a Hunter, provided he will Hunt with a Beebe Gunn.

We Fink a Gygax Wood Welch on a Bill is a deadbeat and we Heer that Hale and Hardy have no need of a Dockter.

Where will you fit in here ???

Christmas is really upon us now and the kids will help us count off the day so we won't get confused. . . it'll be nice having the little loves under foot during the school vacation. . . won't it?

Newark Boy Scout Troop No.1 is selling Christmas trees at the lot on Towers Way and Thornton Avenue, across from the Thrifti-Market in Orchard Park. The Scouts hope to finance their summer camp trip with the proceeds of the tree sale. Maybe you would like to help a young boy enjoy a summer camp stay; if so, stop by and see their selection of trees.

We have been wondering about the long-term influence the failure of the Flood Bond election will have upon the growth of this area. It seems reasonably possible that it will not be as much of a deterrent to residential growth as it will to industrial development.

It is unfortunate that any block can be thrown in front of orderly progress, but it does emphaize that it is the voters who control the destiny of the community and these voters must be shown an absolute need for any bond issue before they will vote "yes."

However, lest anyone or any group in the Township try to make it appear as though Newark is responsible for the defeat of the bonds, we would like to see them recheck the votes. Remember it takes a two-thirds margin to pass such a bond issue (twice as many yes as no votes) and looking at the results by polling places we discover that only two town polling places, Centerville Firehouse & St. James Church with 68 and 70 percent fall into that category. It was only the terrific majorities at the Masonic Home (93%) and Alviso School (81%) that made the election seem close at all. Niles, Decoto, Glenmoor and Newark all failed to approve the bonds, so there was a definite lack of education throughout the whole district or else the people just don't want flood control. . . with a $4,000,000 price tag anyway.

A stork shower given by three of her friends made Betty Gotelli glow with happiness on Thursday, December 9. Imeldine McLean and Laverne Brown were co-hostesses with Betty Moore in the latter's home.

Enjoying the social evening and showering the infanticipating Mrs. Gotelli with lovely gifts were: Mary Davis, Mary Dotson, Phyllis Barbosa, Nita Austin, Phyllis McCann and Pat Bowhen.

Susan Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Taylor, enjoyed a wonderful party to celebrate her 11th birthday last Friday. This all-girl affair started with dinner, ice cream and cake in the Taylor home and ended on a note of gaiety at the show in the Center Theatre. Guests included: Susan's sister, Barbara, Peggy Barks, Shannon Llynch, Anita Corchero, Linda Reif, Barbara Silva, Myrna Meneze, Donna Garrett, Judith Astin, plus a couple of her Centerville chums, Jill Voorhees and Mary Ann Gravestock.

We are glad to hear Jane Dias is feeling better and getting well after her recent operation Won't be long until she is good as new.

The Newark Teen Club surprised one of its own members with birthday cakes complete with candles at the dance last Monday. Jean Winters was the center of attention and her 17th birthday the occasion.

Attention Portugal of Today Radio Club No. 7 members Don't forget the pot luck dinner and Christmas party at the Pavilion tonight. Every year it is great so don't miss it. . , 7 o'clock.

Say kids! Maybe you can't read this but if mommy or daddy really want to make you happy they can take you over to the Fire Station on Saturday, December 18, that's the day after tomorrow, for a visit with the grand old man himself. . . Santa Claus, and of course Santa will have a treat for you.

We hear the Newark P.T.A. is fixing to have its annual card party in February once again but as yet it hasn't set a date. Eva Serafino will be in charge. The group endorsed the incorporation study. . . who hasn't? But no moola. . . again' the rules, they say.

The school classes will have individual room Christmas parties this year. . . too many children and too crowded for one big party. . . usually given by the P.T.A. & associates.

We have asked for a card shower once or twice before but in this case with Christmas so near and family, friends and neighbors meaning just, that much more to us, how about a bushel basket of cards for Mrs. Judy Conyers and son, Vernon? Address them to Arroyo Del Valle Hospital, Livermore.

A welcome little tax exemption shower heralded the impending arrival of a new heir for Harry and Bonnie Walden when Bonnie was honoree at a lovely baby shower on Friday, December 10. Bonnie Bimemiller, Zelma Burleson and Mattie Lacey shared hostess honors in the Bimemiller home on Dairy, which was gaily decorated in the traditional pink-and-blue motif. Guests included: Wilma Shetterly, Carleen Lewis, Stella Baldock, Marcella Hempleman, Isabel Mendes, Diana Dettmer, Daisy Wycoff, Helen Zavala, Betty Dominguez, Idella McCellan, Flora Kruzic, Opal Lee and daughter Susie, Vera Waldron, Jackie Armstrong, Mary Randolph, Nonie Firestone, Given Heim, Evelyn Hardaway, Eula Treat, Lorene Bowman, Vi Smith, Kathy Hanes, Betty Gotelli, Mary Dotson, Maybelle Breen, Gladys Bradford, May Young and Vonie Keifer. Among the lovely gifts showered upon Mrs. Walden was one postmarked, Strathmore, California from her hostess, Mrs. Bimemiller's mother, Mrs. Mabel Taylor.

Pfc. Leroy Springer arrived home Wednesday, December 8 and will be around until December 28 so it will be a very merry Christmas for Jake and Mayme Springer this year. Leroy flew out from Fort Wayne, Detroit, Michigan and will return to the same base at the end of his leave.

Frank and Vera Reichmuth had a special date in their lives to remember and celebrate this week and that would be December 14, the anniversary date of their wedding. This year it was a Tuesday but that didn't dim the glow of happiness that came from within as they marked their third anniversary.

Lorri Elam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elam, celebrated her birthday recently with a party. Enjoying games and refreshments with Lorri were: Ranice Maughan, Wesley Spence, Donna Middleton, Donny Pennaman, Randy Morgan, Jeannette Goltham, Steve Sheffield, Linda Vieira, David Choppin, Debby Wilson, and her sisters Gloria and Beverly.

If ever there was a good reason for buying the Tuberculosis Seals at Christmas time, surely the discovery of two cases here in Newark with the last visit of the Chest X-Ray Unit is sufficient reason to remit a contribution for the seals.

Shirley Barks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Barks, was 10 on December 7 and she had a gay party with her young friends to celebrate the day. Her guests included: Cathy Sammon, Sharon Michael, Susan Perl, Julie Huizar, Michele Yunker, Kay Phippen, Helene Jensch, Pricilla Erickson and her sisters, Peggy, Janice, Jimmy and Dottie.

Randy Blazian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Blazian, enjoyed an evening party last Thursday to celebrate his 9th birthday. Enjoying the evening of fun with Randy were: John Goza, Mike and Timothy O'Neill, Charles Bowman, Grant and Paul Maughan, Timothy McClellan and his sister Claudia.

Shortie greetings are on the wires bringing happy birthday wishes. . . to Louie Gene Milani who celebrated his birthday last Sunday by thinking of all the wonderful advantages of being a private in Uncle Sam's Army. . . to Hazel Falkner as he celebrated her big day, also last Sunday. . . to Harry Lewis, a happy young man of three on Tuesday, December 14. . . to Ben Vierra as he marked another yesterday. . . to Louis Klein as he did likewise on the same date, sorry we missed conveying that message in person. . . to Kenny Hamilton (we wouldn't forget him!) as he gets a year older today. . . to Luther Hudson, a birthday celebrant come tomorrow, and this will start him off on the right track. . . to young Edward Gibson who will see eleven candles on his cake Saturday. . . to Sylvia Perry the sweet San Jose State coed who celebrated her big day the previous Saturday. . . to Terry Lyn Brannon who will be treated royally Sunday to celebrate her fourth . . . to William Bowman as he celebrated his birthday yesterday.

Clements Re-elected

Re-election of Ernest L. Clements of Clements & Co., Centerville, to the Board of Directors of the northern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc. was announced today by H. C. Maginn, president of the A.G.C.

GLENMOOR GARDEN NEWS

By Sarah Jane Phillips
Centerville 8-2443

Glowing fires on friendly hearths and blossoming Christmas decorations spell coming holiday warmth and gaiety in Glenmoor. Announcement was made Sunday of a contest to promote interest in home decoration, and forthwith the Christmas season in Glenmoor Gardens was officially begun. The contest is sponsored by the Glenmoor Gardens Homeowners Association. Prizes will be awarded to first and second place winners for the beauty, appropriateness, and originality of the entry. Judging will be December 27. First prize will be $50, second prize $25, and honorable mention, $10. Glenmoor residents who want to take part are asked to keep their outdoor lights on during the week before Christmas.

With the emphasis for the season on good will to men Glenmoor residents are urged to clean out their children's toy chests and call Jackie Vogt of Mattos Drive, Centerville 8-2718. Jackie is president of the Speech and Arts Club at the high school. The group is collecting new or used toys, broken and mendable, or just plain old ones. They will be turned over to the Marine Toys for Tots organization for repair and distribution. Call Jackie by Saturday and she will see that the toys are picked up, or drop them by her home at 412 Mattos.

A bright sparkler decorates the third finger, left hand, of Shirley Ruano, Elliot Street. Bud Auger, her fiancee, arrived Sunday the fifth from a stint overseas. Shirley spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Auger of Alameda. The two families gathered at the Ruano home on the eight to discuss plans for a formal party announcing the engagement of the pair.

The James Allen home on Mattos Street has been sold to a Mr. and Mrs. Bondalsi. They have one son, ten months old, and will be moving in about January first.

Bob Dull and his son Dick of Rogers Avenue are badly in need of a good cook. Betty Dull, chief cook and bottle-washer, left last week for Long Beach to spend a couple of week with her mother before the latter leaves on a pleasure cruise, bound for Honolulu over the holidays. "I hope we'll still be alive when she gets back," said Bob. She will return home on the eighteenth.

The Arthur J. Smiths of Sterling Drive will celebrate Christmas Eve at the Almaden ranch home of Mr. Smith's niece, Mrs. James Caglia. Christmas day, will be spent in Los Gatos at the home of another niece, Mrs. Louis Fitinghoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Tipton of Sterling Court will host a group of their friends at a buffet supper, Saturday, the eighteenth. Twenty guests from San Francisco, Oakland, and the Peninsula are expected. Both sides of the family will be represented at the Tipton home on Christmas.

Family tradition of the Richard Trouts is a Christmas Eve banquet at the home of Mrs. Trout's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peyton of Oakland. The family with all the food that's left then will retire to the Trout's home on Sterling Court. Christmas Day is then a day of relaxation and enjoyment for everyone. Left-overs furnish the food and mothers are relieved of kitchen chores.

On Saturday the fourth, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McMurphy of Sterling Drive entertained their former neighbors at a buffet supper in the holiday spirit. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Emery Simpson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shrader of San Leandro, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woollum of Castro Valley.

The school bus had to pass up five-year-old Beverley Webb for the past eight weeks. She is still recovering from a kidney infection and hopes to be able to return to kindergarten after the holidays.

Last Friday Mrs. C. W. Young of Glenmoor Drive went to Alameda Hospital. She returned early this week with a little girl, Chery Lynn who came into the world at six pounds, eleven ounces. She has red hair. Mr. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Young, spent the past week visiting from Monrovia. They filled the bill as loving caretakers of Ruth Anne and Billy while mama was away.

Roland Wohlwend of Glenmoor Drive returned on the tenth from a one-week trip through his territory, this time taking in the cities of Las Vegas, Denver, and Salt Lake City.

A houseful of friends and relatives visited the John Zarrick home on Rogers Avenue on December 8 to help the Zarrick's houseguest, Mrs. Rosalind Serpa celebrate her birthday.

A good healthy taste of winter was enjoyed by the Park and the Burrows families of Rogers Avenue last weekend. They left early Saturday morning and went to the snow which they found in abundance at Long Barn. They rented a toboggan and all played kids again. Twelve hours after they left home they returned bringing in the tree a-la-Santa.

Other brave woodsmen were the John Beumers of Norris Road and the Charles Wilson family of Centerville. They went to Santa Cruz where they visited a tree farm, selected their own, and chopped them down.

Not-so-new newcomers moved into their new home at 350 Glenview Drive this week. They are Commander E. W. White and his wife, Von. The Whites have been staying with the Sinclairs on Rogers Avenue until their house was finished. Both men work at the Navy District Medical Office in San Francisco. The Whites come from Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Louis Serpa of Sterling Drive celebdated her birthday November 19 with a party at her home on Sterling Drive at which 19 guests were present. Her most prized gift was a large decorative black wall clock given to her by her husband.

Son and Heir

A new chapter arrived for Max and Kay Storey of Teakwood Avenue in Glenwood on Friday, December 3.

This chapter was all about handsome little Sheridan Leigh who entered this world weighing seven pounds. The Storeys have three other children, Kristy, Cathy and Tommy.

Radio Club Party

The annual pot-luck supper and Christmas party for members of the Portugal of Today Radio Club No. 7 and their families will be held today (Thursday) at 7 p.m. in the Newark Pavilion.

There will be entertainment and of course Santa Claus will appear to present the children with their treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pimentel Machado of Irvington and Mrs. Mary Duarte of Newark are in charge. Members are requested to bring their membership cards.

"SANTA" SANTO—Don Santo displays some of the talent the popular M.C. will bring to Glenmoor Gardens shopping center Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. for gala community Christmas party. Left to right on piano are Donna Walker, Terry Day, and Carol Piva. Santa will appear in person on the U-Save parking lot in a red jeep, bringing free presents for everyone, and Don will present his juvenile show. Everyone in the Township is invited to the party, sponsored by U-Save, Glenmoor Homes, and the Glenmoor Homeowners Association.

Newark Speed Signs Okehed

Newark's continuing effort to improve the safety of its street crossings showed some progress last week.

The Home Owners Improvement Association had pressed for more painted crosswalks and signs and the County has agreed to place three additional speed limit signs in the area which is believes will be adequate to care for both problems. It now becomes a problem of enforcement.

The Chamber of Commerce is seeking crossing guard protection from the Board of Supervisors for the school children crossing at Dairy and Cherry. A crossing guard at Thornton and Cherry is provided by the State and the Chamber believes traffic at the crossing of the two county roads warrants the same protection.

The H.O.I.A. allotted $50 to the Citizens Committee for the study of incorporation of Newark following the pattern of other civic groups. The Homeowners Association also would like to cooperate with the Citizens Committee for the Study of Washington Township Self-Government.

"Whatever the final decision on incorporation, we shall continue to live side-by-side and must understand our neighbor's problems", said President Everett Ezra in his report to the Home Owners membership.

IRVINGTON NEWS

By Carol Kiep, Irv. 174W

Wednesday, December 22, at the First Baptist Church 366 Broadway at 7:00 p.m., a film-entitled "The Greatest Gift" will be shown. The film portrays the true celebration of Christmas.

Something new has been added——at the north entrance to town, a big "Welcome to the First Baptist Church'" sign.

Mrs. Lois Leach and Mrs. Berta Davies of San Leandro spent a wet day Thursday in Oakland.

Our sympathy to the family of Frank Copeland, who passed away in Modesto.

Saturday nite, our new fire commissioner, A. E. Alameda; Fire chief Alfred Peixoto; Capt. Manuel Guardanapo; Lt. Wm. Rose and their wives enjoyed the dinner given by the Alameda County Association of Firemen at Pleasanton Fair Grounds.

The Library received the December quota of books. Included in the fiction, non-fiction and juveniles "Inside Nantucket" by Ernestine Gilbreth Carey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hirsch, Jr. of San Francisco visited relateives in town Sunday.

See Merle Peixoto cruising around in a Bel-Air. Hmmmm.

Sunday, Muzzy Rogers, Ed Haynes, Henry Rego, fished at Frank's Tract.

Walt George, Johnny Calcagno, Ed Haynes and Henry Rego saw the Bobo Olson fight, Wednesday at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Notes at random: Everett Hammond has been elected national director of the Eastbay Branch of the American Gesneria Society: good to see Frank Mayer around again: see the Longs have a lovely new car; work has been started on the Earl Fields home on Olive Ave; Joan Bolejack is leaving for her home in the mid-west.

Welcome back! Mr. and Mrs. Lee Waters and family have moved back to town and are living in the Hill Top Apts., on Driscoll Road.

LOTS OF 'EM—Record stack of NEWS-REGISTERS from last week's special development edition pictured at door of Centerville Postoffice. Issue was acclaimed by readers.

Richmond Kibby, Quit F&AM Posts

Edwin A. Richmond, treasurer, and Hugh M. Kibby, secretary, have retired as officers of the Alameda Lodge, No. 167, Free and Accepted Masons, after completing 20 years of service.

Bernard R. Lawlor of Niles has been installed as master. Other officers include Charles Cogswell of Newark, senior warden; Jacob Koelsch of Mission San Jose, junior warden; Franklin Brown of Newark, treasurer; John Myrick of Centerville, secretary; Lester Cotter of Niles, chaplin; Sherman Schroder and Ferris M. Brazle, junior and senior deacons; Karl Nordvik of Centerville, marshal; Dez Brown and Claude Roberts, stewards; Keith Kimmel, organist; Weston Johnson, tyler.

Marston Dassel, past master, was the installing officer with William Beck, past master, as master of ceremonies.

Orchard Park News

By Don Brown

Hi Ya Folks! Are we proud of Orchard Park Neighbors! Just take a ride through the tract one of these evenings and view the Christmas decorations. Beautiful! Congratulations to all of you who have carried out the Holiday Spirit.

Through the sponsorship of Orchard Park Shopping Center, Newark Troop No. 1 Boy Scouts, were able to set up a Christmas tree sales lot which is doing a land-office business. The boys are selling trees at a lower price than most dealers and the response has been very satisfactory. The lot has been made very attractive by decorations and lighting.

Centerville's Township Twirlers, local square dance group will have a Christmas party this Thursday, at the Centerville elementary school auditorium. Clubs from San Leandro and San Lorenzo will attend. Refreshments will be served.

Country Club of Washington Township Juniors, a bi-monthly organization to unite its members in social, philanthropic and educational work and to aid in welfare work met at the home of Mrs. Vi Mohn, 150 Dutra Way, last Thursday. I called on Vi the next day and found the kitchen table loaded with coffee cups. I volunteered to help Vi do the dishes but she very graciously excused me from the chore. Thanks Vi.

After that fast ride we gave the Stork last month, (see our column of November18) he avoided this neck of the woods until Sunday the 28th, when he ventured forth again and made a nice landing at the Wm. Stoppe home, 141 Dutra Way. The stork came via San Jose Hospital and deposited little Stephen William. Little Steve weighed eight pounds, fourteen ounces. Welcome to the neighborhood, young fellow! and congratulations to Papa and Mama Stoppe.

Observations around the Township: Irv, from our neighboring community of Irvington, must have left that place to come to Centerville to do his Christmas shopping. Anyhow Irv was missing from the Irvington sign at the north end of town the other night, leaving "—ington" as the visible identification as to one's whereabouts.

Phil Willis is to be congratulattd on the new third-dimension appearance of his Doughnut Nook. He told me ahead of time, a little of his plans and I think the finished job is very attractive. Phil and Marge are neighbors of ours in Orchard Park. Nice going boy, your design certainly improves the looks of Main street.

Baloney: Town and Country Furnishing's Nelsons, both (Birdshot) and Beautiful, beaming, Bouncing, Beloved, Betty, bought a "Better Buy Buick" by bidding BYE BYE, begrudgingly, brokenheartedly, briefly, to backfiring, brokendown, bad behaving, bailingwire bound, bandaged, barbarous, behindhand, bearing-buster, but balmy Buick, bought before. Believe (Brownie's) baloney, (Birdshot) and Betty both became benevolently bilingual by becoming brandnew Buick Buyers. (Bountiful badinage but bare banter) Apologies to Jack Nars.

Ambulance Rolls: Another week has passed without a serious Highway accident. As this is written before SD Day, set by President Eisenhower for Safe Driving, we of the Ambulance are keeping our fingers crossed that the record will hold. Some folks get the idea that we are just waiting around for something to happen. Don't believe that! We do not like to see people injured and killed any more than any one else but when it does happen we do all that is humanly possible to give aid and get them to the hospital. Yet's continue to keep our record clean in the Township.

Tuesday evening, December 8, a call was received from the home of Eugene Dodson, 2686 Dairy Ave., Newark that Eugene Jr. was having convulsions. After a speedy trip to Fairmont Hospital during which oxygen was administered, the little two-year-old revived. Later he was removed to an Oakland Hospital where he was held for observation. He returned home last Saturday afternoon.

Saturday December 11 at 4:07 p.m., a car collided with a tree in Niles Canyon resulting in slight injuries to a passenger who was taken by Ambulance to Fairmont Hospital. Again we beg of you, "take it easy"!

Frank Copeland, Pioneer Scion, Dies

Frank Copeland, 80, member of a pioneer Irvington family and former resident here, died at the home of a daughter at Madera last Thursday,

He was the father of Father Raymond F. Copeland, wartime chaplain, professor at the University of Santa Clara and now assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Church at San Jose.

Also surviving in addition to the daughter at Madera, Mrs. Jack Kearns, are another daughter, Mrs. Charles Kearns of Winnemucca, Nevada, and five grandchildren.

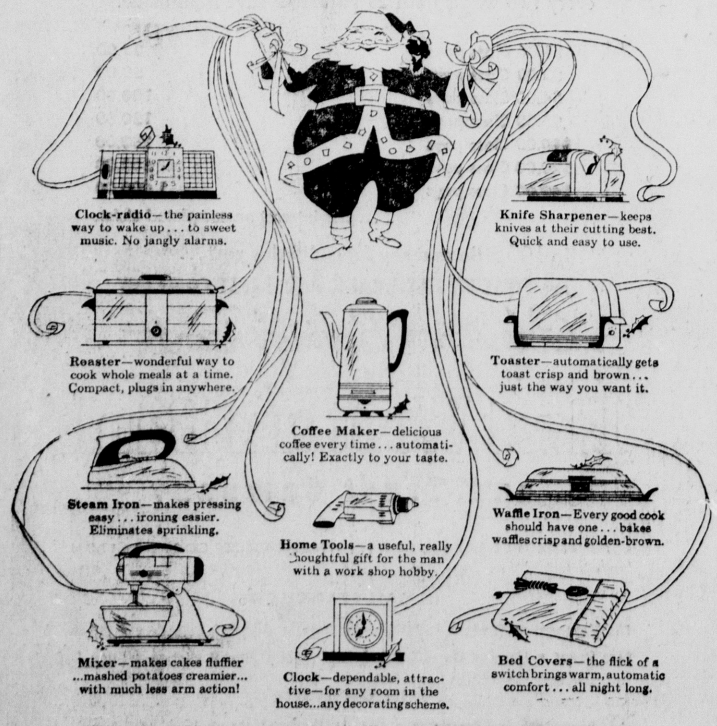

Services were held Saturday from the Berge Mortuary. Mass was said at St. Joseph's Church.

Copeland's wife, the late Annie Lyons Copeland, was one of Irvington's first schoolteachers. Father Copeland officiated at the rosary and the mass for his father.

Supes Tighten Reins On Poker Clubs, Dance Halls

Dance Permit Law Aimed At Bars

Stricter regulations were imposed on public dance halls in action taken last week by Alameda County Supervisors.

A new ordinance makes it unlawful to hold a public dance without a permit and gives the board and the sheriff's office broad enforcement powers. Patriotic, religious, fraternal and school dances are exceptions.

The dance permit law develops from many complaints the board received over violations, and because of the frequent application for permits by road houses and bars.

Under its provisions, dance permits will be issued only on written application identifying the applicant and his affiliation and describing in detail the premises where dances are to be held. No permits will be issued for dances on a floor less than 120 square feet or within four and one-half feet of any counter or bar.

The board may revoke permits if dances are improperly conducted.

Dance regulations require premises for public dances to be well lighted, with all doors unlocked or unbarred. They prohibit immoral, obscene or disorderly dancing and the participation of dancers under influence of liquor or narcotics. They prohibit public dances between 2 a.m. and 12 noon.

Gambling Hit In Crackdown

Commercial poker clubs in rural communities were banned in an emergency move last week by the Board of Supervisors.

The board made it a misdemeanor to permit or play draw poker or its variations commercially. The penalty for infractions call for fines up to $500, jail or six months, or both.

Sheriff H. P. Gleason called for the card club crackdown because of what he called a sudden rise in gambling in the suburban areas south of Hayward.

He and Dist. Atty. Frank Coakley, who drafted the emergency law, said that players who have been operating in licensed clubs in the City of Hayward, have been moving their games over into unincorporated areas after city closing hours.

Gleason said there are 23 card clubs operating in southern Alameda County on a full-time basis, and countless others on a part-time scale. The law covers clubrooms where a charge is made for a seat at the table and defines winnings as "anything of value."

The new county gambling ordinance does not make a crime of the social game, the district attorney emphasized.

Hi there!

Well here I am again to tell you of what goes on at Centerville's C Battery of the National Guard. Last week I tried to sort of bring you up to date. This week I'll try to give you some up to date news.

We have a new second lieutenant with us now; he is Lt. Robert B. Miller of Centerville. Lt. Miller received his appointment on November 23. Also one of our own sergeants has turned in his stripes for that all-important gold bar. He is now 2nd Lt. Robert P. McCurdy. Congratulations! We're sure proud of you. Lt. McCurdy is from Hayward.

We have a new sergeant who was promoted from corporal. He is Sgt. Charles W. Sorrels.

Also four new Pfc's. They are Gary Allegre, of Niles, Laurence J. Garcia of Mission San Jose, Clyde G. Marks of Irvington and Vernon L. Roberts of Warm Springs.

Last but not least is the news that Sgt. Robert L. Hallmeyer successfully completed Cooks School at Fort Ord, Calif. We can expect an improvement in chow now; right, Sgt. Hallmeyer?

All of these men have done a good job and deserve their promotion, but there's room for a lot more. In fact we need more men so if any of you readers are interested why not drop down and look Charlie Battery over? You might like what you see.

So long for now.

St. Jude Christmas Party Saturday

St. Jude Y.L.I. of Irvington jointly with Y.M.I. of Mission San Jose will have a Christmas party for their families December 18, at the Parish Hall in Centerville.

There will be a pot-luck dinner at 7 p.m. and Santa Claus will make his appearance during the evening with gifts for children under twelve.

Those in charge are Chairman Bette Jean Silva, co-chairman Beverly Souza, Mary Dias, Evelyn Maciel, Laura Rocha, Inez Belz, Jeanette Rose, Ann Perry, Mary Braga, Pearl Guardanapo, Mary Gomes and Mae Pimental.

Several St. Jude members attended the official visit of Grand President Helen Krom of All Saints in Hayward.

Highway Patrol Pledges War On Holiday Injuries

"The California Highway Patrol is pledged to help provide a happy holiday season in the East Bay Area by keeping the highways safe for all motorists and pedestrians," commented Captain H. G. Amborn, Commander of the local patrol area, today.

Captain Amborn pointed out that five persons were killed and 127 were injured in rural Alameda County last December, while 228 were killed and 3988 were injured in all unincorporated areas of the State during the same month.

"Drinking speed and carlessness are the biggest threats in holiday traffic, and we intend to devote special attention to correcting this type of driving behavior," Amborn said.

"To provide the best protection possible, and to offer the most efficient traffic control, the Patrol has cancelled all leaves and days-off for Officers during holiday traffic peaks," the Captain added.

II.

That each petitioner is the owner of real property in the territory proposed to be annexed; that the real property owned by your petitioners represents at least seventy-five per cent of the total assessed valuation of the territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of Alameda County, California; that said territory above described is wholly in Alameda County, California, and is not in any other sanitary district and is contiguous to said Irvington Sanitary District.

III.

That the total assessed valuation of the territory above described as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of said Alameda County is the sum of $150,700.00.

IV.

That the amount of real property owned by each petitioner and its assessed valuation as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of said Alameda County is set forth after the signature of each petitioner.

V.

That the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed have been approved by the Alameda County Boundary Commission in its report and recommendation No. 270, dated November 16, 1954.

VI.

That the petition may be signed in several counterparts and each of such counterparts shall for all purposes be deemed to be an original and all such counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same petition.

WHEREFORE, the undersigned ask that the necessary steps be taken to annex the territory above described to Irvington Sanitary District pursuant to the provisions of Division VI, Part 1, Chapter 9, Article 3 of the Health and Safety Code of California.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 1
AN ORDINANCE REGULATING TEMPORARY WATER SERVICES, PRESCRIBING CHARGES, PROHIBITING TAMPERING WITH FIRE HYDRANTS AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR SUCH TAMPERING

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Directors of Alameda County Water District as follows:

The term temporary service, as used herein refers to a service for construction work, vacant lots, cow troughs and similar uses, that due to its nature will be of intermittent or non-permanent use.

Charges for water furnished through a temporary service shall be at the established rates for other consumers, with the following exception: If temporary service is supplied through a fire hydrant the standard meter charge shall not apply. There shall be a service charge of $4.00 for each such application plus a $.25 per day meter charge for each calendar day.

The applicant for temporary service will be required:

(a) To pay the District in advance the estimated cost of installing and removing all facilities necessary in connection with furnishing of such services;

(b) To deposit with the District an amount necessary to insure the safe return of any equipment loaned by the District to such applicant for use in temporary services.

The consumer shall use all possible care to prevent damage to the meter and any loaned facilities of the District involved in furnishing the temporary service. In case of damage to or loss of the meter or other facilities, the cost of making repairs or replacements shall be paid by the consumer.

Upon removal of a temporary service the amount deposited under section (b) will be returned after the consumer has paid or there has been deducted from the amounts deposited all bills for water supplied and the cost of any repairs or adjustments to the District's equipment required due to use by the consumer, or damaged while in his possession.

If within a period of two years from the installation of a temporary service a bona fide service is connected thereto, the District will refund the amount of the payment made for the temporary installation, less the standard meter installation charge for a bona fide service which prevailed at the time of the temporary installation, and less any amounts due the District as above provided.

If temporary service is supplied through a fire hydrant, a metering permit for use of such hydrant shall be obtained. It is specifically prohibited to operate the valve of any fire hydrant in a manner other than by the use of a spanner wrench designed for this purpose.

Any person or persons, company, corporation or association who, with intent to injure or defraud, tampers with any fire hydrant for the purpose of taking water therefrom, or for any other purpose whatever, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.00 or by imprisonment in the County jail for a period not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The Alameda County Water District reserves the right to refuse to provide any temporary service when it considers the installation of such service to be detrimental to the interest of the District or its permanent consumers.

This Ordinance shall take effect and shall be in force immediately.

Adopted by the Board of Directors of Alameda County Water District on November 24, 1954.

Bartell Ire Ends South County Planning Session

Bridling at the thought that county officials have ducked responsibility for planning Washington Township's development, Supervisor Harry Bartell last week brusquely terminated a meeting with citizen-members of the Land Development Committee.

"I challenge anyone to prove the Supervisors and the Planning Commission has not been doing their duties," announced Bartell.

He said he felt "some statements" made at the session in Oakland "indicate a feeling" that the official planning effort has been lax.

The meeting had been called to discuss what to do about the recent report made by a 10-man committee of independent businessmen after an 8-month study. It ended without action from the county officials. R. T. Nahas, committe chairman, said he will recommend to the Supervisors:

1. That a board of adjustment be created immediately to handle routine items and free the planning commissioners for long-range policy matters.

2. That the Land Development Committee meet twice a month with the commission's techincal staff to plan the growth of the south end of the county.

Attending the fruitless session, were Bartell, Supervisor Chester Stanley, and Planning Commission Chairman P. J. DeBernardi.

Stanley agreed with Bartell that county participation in planning has been "excellent." He thanked Nahas' group, but informed them the county "already has embarked on a master plan of zoning and road development."

Two months ago the laymen's committee submitted a 53-page report recommending that a master plan be adopted for the south end of the county, especially Washington Township, which it predicted will shortly have a population of a quarter-million.

Nahas warned that "this is the last chance. . . to develop a comprehensive program for the development of this county."

Stanley defended the county's master plan program. He said a master plan had been submitted to south county communities two years ago "but we haven't seen it since." The Supervisor added planning must be achieved by degrees through education of the public.

One committeeman said that a road plan should be developed. Stanley relied the supervisors had directed the county engineer's office and the planning staff eight months ago to prepare a master plan for roads and "give it every priority."

Stanley called upon planning director John Jay Thomas to report on the progress made.

Thomas said the situation is like that in Marin county where it was found necessary to prepare a master plan before a road plan could be prepared.

"Until the commission can free itself from the current work load it is impractical and impossible to develop a highway plan," Thomas declared.

TB Fight Told To Kiwanians

Tuberculosis was once mankind's greatest killer but it no longer is such a dreaded disease because science has provided the method of finding the germ and curing the disease.

Merwin L. Noble, executive secretary of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association, speaking before the Kiwanis club Monday night, said there has been 545 new cases of tuberculosis found in Alameda County the past year and "there are probably another 800 residents walking around with it who have no idea they are afflicted with this contagious disease."

By availing themselves of the free chest X-rays taken when the Mobile Chest X-ray Unit visits their locality, these people could be detected and cured before their case becomes a serious problem. Noble said all the services of the Tuberculosis Association are provided by the sale of the Christmas TB Seals and 95% of the money collected is spent in the local area.

Homer Ligon was program chairman for the evening.

Spanish Booklet Warns of Cancer

The seven danger signals of cancer are described in a Spanish language phamphlet published by the American Cancer Society and now available without charge at the Alameda County Branch office, 354-21st Street, Oakland.

John C. Houlihan, president of the local branch, said the American Cancer Society also has made available free literature about cancer in Italian, Chinese, Yiddish, French, Polish and Braille. The Spanish language leaflet is the latest foreign language publication issued by the national health organization.

The literature is available at Alameda County Branch unit offices located at 157 E. First Street, Livermore, and 920 A. Street, Hayward, as well as at the Oakland office.

PLANNING OUT THE WINDOW

Heaven knows what it's going to take before some folks realize the importance of responsible, foresighted planning for our rural areas.

Last week saw a horrible example of how not to plan an area. Your children and grandchildren may have to sacrifice heavily in taxes and happiness as a result.

Four Supervisors, hastening to accomodate some subdividers, deliberately threw out the window one of planning's most effective weapons — minimum lot sizes. By voting an open season for small, city-size lots, they bid fair to wreck the planning that has been dearly-bought in our Township. Now anyone who wants to put 50-foot lots in any unspoiled, unzoned area needs only to file a hasty map before the zoning takes effect, and he will be "protected" against his neighbors, his competitors, and against everything except the disdain of folks who don't want our beautiful countryside turned into a slum.

Subdividers have the same responsibility to share in community planning as do homeowners, though some Supervisors may not think so. The decision in Oakland only sharpens the resolution here to get some form of home-rule so that such decisions can be more closely controlled.

DEFEAT SHOULD NOT BE ACCEPTED

Defeat of the Zone 5 flood-control and drainage bonds is nothing less than deplorable. What it may mean to Niles, Centerville, Newark and Decoto — if the defeat is allowed to stand — can readily be guessed at. Towns to the north and south, Irvington for instance, will reap the benefits-in-reverse. Development will go forward there all the faster because it must slow down to Irvington's north.

The point is, the defeat cannot be allowed to stand. Backers of orderly growth agree another election ought to be called at the earliest possible date, which is in June. Meantime, the Supervisors can set up an emergency program out of pay-as-you-go tax money.

Next time, a better job of education needs to be done at the precinct level. New people in the Central Township need to be told what it's like to have their roads and doorsteps under water. Evidently they didn't believe what they were told this time. Let's hope we don't have a wet winter to prove to them the flood threat wasn't any bogey-man, but the damp, bitter truth.

HIGHWAY "ABORTIONS"?

California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bernard R. Caldwell undoubtedly shocked a good many people, especially highway engineers, when he stated that "some of our freeways are nothing but abortions."

The commissioner made his statement in connection with a request for 1160 new Highway Patrol officers to add to the 1483 now on duty. Explaining the need for such a huge expansion in personnel, Caldwell declared that some of the freeways we are building increase, rather than reduce, traffic enforcement problems. He said that highway engineers often design roads "in a way that invites motorists to come together." In spots, the commissioner stated, two freeways merge at full flow, causing serious traffic jams and accidents.

His other criticisms are that (1) there are not enough turnouts for disabled cars to move off the freeways so as not to block traffic; and (2) there are not enough passages across the freeway dividing strips to permit patrol officers to reach the other side of the freeway where trouble is observed. Sometimes officers have to travel three miles or more to get around to the other side.

So much for his complaints — now we'd like to add a pet one of our own. Have you noticed how often the turn-offs from the freeways are single-lane affairs? The result is that if there is a sudden heavy flow of traffic turning off at that point, as for a football game, a king-size jam-up follows. Seems to us that getting on and getting off the freeways should not be through the eye of a needle.

Humpty Dumpties Set Holiday Fete

Tomorrow, children of the Humpty Dumpty Nursery School will remember Christmas with a special program.

Each pre-school child will bring a gift which he bought himself (25 cents plus penny tax limit) to place under the tree which all the children helped trim with decorations they made. They will hear stories of Christmas celebrations in other lands and break a "pinata" by way of illustration.

Last week ten of the children were treated to a face-to-face introduction to a horse. Under the direction of Mrs. George Hoy and Mrs. Morris Leal the children went on an excursion to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Silva on Highway 9. There, as guest of Mr. Silva who is the president of the Washington Township Riding Club, the children were encouraged to pet the horse, ride bareback and with a saddle.

Question: What is the most sought-after seat in county government? Answer: Planning Commissioner Joe Todd's seat. Reason: He sits next to Florence Buehler, our newest and most decorative planning commissioner, from Niles. Mrs. Buehler, the gals will be happy to know, looked very chic at her first session last week in a black wool get-up and a hat with a perky feather. All the other commissioners apeared to be plotting to sit next to her (she sits on the end) so this is fair warning to Mr. Todd.

Speaking of county government, something that is always very much in the eye of the Township (take that two ways) it seems somebody is going to put a hog ranch near Supervisor Chet Stanley's home north of Livermore. Stanley is trying to be philosophical about the whole thing. "They godda pood 'em subblace," says the Supervisor, clothespin on nose.

Around our shop, the men's morale is up six points and the gals' noses are out of joint over Ernie Delgado's new calendars. Special-made for Ernie's service station at Irvington, they get the new year off to a tigerish start.

Joe Boliba's spending time at Golden Gate Fields these days, watching the progress of his horse, Chiflado. The Boliba bangtail was a luckless 4th the last time out but placed the time before that. Joe will let his Niles pals know when the beast is ready to win.

A polecat got into Ben Murphy's duck blind at Los Banos the other day, and forced Ben to spend the day in the open after a pal shot the critter on Ben's pet seat.

First casualty of the flood-bond loss will be the Glenmoor swimming pool and park, it is rumbled. Reason: no way to drain 'em.

Add friendly insults: Doc Wilson's introduction of Harvey Braun, onetime SP chief at Niles: "A retired road-agent." Everyone at Rotary is always glad to see Harvey, very popular guy, now living in Marin.

Newark Woman Wins Crash Balm

A Newark woman this week shared in a $10,025 settlement as the result of an auto accident February 23, 1953, in Hayward.

Mrs. Elmaree Sarmento, 39, of Newark; and Mrs. Louise Holt of Tracy were hurt in the crash at Hesperian Boulevard and A Street when a car driven by D. W. Everett of Menlo Park struck theirs and hurled it 150 feet into a field.

The settlement was announced in Oakland Superior Court where the two women were suing Everett for $25,000. Mrs. Sarmento and Mrs. Holt will split the settlement.

Hit-Run Sentence

Daniel Mejorado, 18, of Irvington, charged with misdemeanor hit-run last week was sentenced to five months in the Alameda County Jail.

Mejorado was found guilty and Judge E. A. Quaresma pronounced sentence.

In spite of current magazine articles, we don't dare have edible decorations at our house. With kids from three to sixty-three running in and out, they'd not last two days.

Right now California is at it's prettiest. At least here in Washington Township, where the green hills complement the golden trees.

I'd like to suggest to car importers that we women like to see autos in attractive colors. I bet they'd sell more if painted green or blue to match some female's eyes.

I wonder if the folks with that very sharply-curved driveway in Irvington need a double-jointed car to get it into the garage?

With wet weather upon us, a sidewalk between the bakery and the barber shop on Thornton, in Newark, would be welcome.

Another wet weather hint. Prevent accidents caused by your foot slipping off the brake or clutch by using a rag-rug foot wiper in the car.

We're out of the dark ages at last! What a welcome sight to be able to shop in those new well-lighted stores in the Township.

Editor Sir:

We, the parents of Barbara Gene would like to express our appreciation to everyone who has helped our daughter with her transportation to Sunrise school.

Due to the sickness of our family and unemployment it would never have been our pleasure to see her go to school so as she may lead a normal life.

Thank you for your help and encouragement in our problem.

Library Displays Holiday Books

The Centerville Branch of the Alameda County Library, in the County Building has just received a new shipment of books designed for holiday reading.

Among the titles that will interest adults are, "Royal Intrigue," Anthony; "Good Morning Miss Dove," Patton; "No Time For Sergents," Hyman; "Katherine," Seton; "Soldier of Fortune," Gann; "Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill," Hagedorn; "Fall of a Titan," Gouzenko; "Love is Eternal," Stone; "Electric Fryer-Cooker Recipes," Kiene; "My Brother's Keeper", Davenport; and "Complete Book of Interior Decorating," Derieux.

Children and teen-agers will find the following books entertaining, "Amal and the Night Visitors," Menotti; "The Costume Book," Leeming; "Journey Cake Ho!" Sawyer; "The Enchanted Playhouse," Hill; "Paintbox Summer," Cavanna; "Henry and Ribsy," Cleary; a children's version of "Pilgrim's Progress," Bunyan and Godalphin; "All Kinds of Dogs," Chandoha; and "When It Rained Cats and Dogs," Turner.

In addition to the new books, the library has a fine display of Christmas books, with everything from "A Christmas Carol" to Christmas decorating ideas.

Editor, Sir:

As an industrial Realtor I was disappointed to learn that the drainage bonds were defeated. My firm has been in the process of acquiring data on industrial sites in Washington Township to be submitted to a large corporation. It is impossible for an industry to consider sites that lack proper drainage facilities because of the flood hazard and problems of drainage from the industry's property on to neighboring properties. This is especially true in the case of one site near Newark which we felt was ideally suited for this particular industry; however it is very doubtful that the industry will now consider locating in this area.

Apparently the Newark Home Owners Association was responsible to a large degree for the defeat of the drainage bonds. This is ironic because the Newark area stands to benefit greatly from industrial expansion provided proper drainage facilities are available. Although passage of the bonds would increase taxes, this increase would be offset by the heavy tax base provided by industrial expansion. It is a well known fact that communities lacking industry suffer from high taxes due to the necessity for taxes from homes alone to provide expensive school facilities. Conversely industries provide their fair share of taxes without increasing the demand for school and other city services. Thus the people of Newark might seriously reconsider their stand.

Another point for the people and builders in Newark to consider is the fact that industry provides customers for new homes and for the purchase of used homes. A good demand for homes usually means getting a good price for them.

We sincerely hope the people of Central Washington Township will reconsider the drainage bonds as we believe this area is extremely well suited for industrial growth.

Respectfully yours,
James H. L'Hommedieu, Jr.

Warm Springs Would Join Water District

Warm Springs took steps last week to join the Alameda County Water District and start getting water from pipes instead of direct from wells for the first time in the community's more-than-100 years.

A committee headed by Andy Azevedo will circulate petitions asking that the area be annexed to the water district, which now serves everything in the Township up to the edge of Warm Springs.

If a majority of property owners and voters in the 800-acre area sign up, the annexation can be accomplished by the water district directors without an election, according to Attorney David Gilmore, who was asked to steer the project.

The local chamber heard these reports last week. The group also decided to seat officers next month. A nominating committee headed by Tony Braga will bring names to the January meeting.
